VOL. XV......NO. 4405. NEW-YORK, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1865. PRICE FOUR CENTS.

TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION.

THE FOLLOWING APPEARED

IN THE NEW-YORK EXPRESS.

IT IS VERY ENCOURAGING.

EXTRAORDINARY TREATMENT.

Mr. Jacob Patterson, of Munroe, Orange County, N. Y., had been suffering for years from Consumption, with a severe putrid infectious sore throat, to make use of his own words, a hurried respiration, hot and offensive breath, the skin of a burning and disagreeable heat, without the least moisture; the pulse quick, hard and irregular, averaging from 100 to 140 strokes per minute; the mouth and throat presenting a fiery appearance, the palate and glands painfully swelled; combined with a pain in the chest, the whole countenance presenting a ghastly, cadaverous look; the white part of the eye had a pearly, unnatural appearance, and, strange to say, the eye itself beamed with sparkling animation and lustre; the expectoration was copious and frequent; white, frothy and sometimes tough opaque substance, solid, of a yellow or green color, having a fetid smell when thrown on burning coals. In this infected state he was treated by the most eminent physicians he could find, but the excruciating pain in his side and chest, which became insupportable, so much alarmed his friends, that in this last dismal waste of life, he was taken to the well-known Dr. Von Eisenberg, of our city. At the doctor's office he complained of weakness at the least bodily exertion, and when placed in the examination chair, the breathing was fearful, the pulse was small and quicker than natural; he complained of a tightness, as if a cord were drawn across the chest. The doctor, with his usual care, made an accurate diagnosis of the case, expressed willingness to undertake to treat him, and to attend to him to the best of his ability. The doctor declared himself to be always impressed with a decided belief that our wise and beneficent Creator has placed within the reach of his feeble creature, man, a cure for all diseases; that he has often cured this fatal complaint by assiduous attention and careful judgment. The preliminary arrangements were made; Dr. Von Eisenborg operated on the patient, after which Mr. Patterson declared himself to be very much relieved, since which time the patient has been under the doctor's care for a few weeks. To the patient's inexpressible delight, as well as to the great satisfaction of his friends, he has entirely recovered, and has just now come to New-York for the purpose of asking the doctor to allow him to resume his usual business. He looks remarkably strong, and his face is filled out and looks stouter than ever it has been; in fact, he says for the last twelve years he never enjoyed a single night's rest, and now he sleeps as sound as an infant; and, according to his own words, he seems to have an iron digestion. He appears anxious to make known the great benefit he has derived from Doctor Von Eisenberg's skillful and successful treatment to all who suffer from this wasting and fatal complaint, and the Doctor's unremitting attention to his patients.

We have had occasion, several times, to comment on the success of this skillful physician. We must repeat that Dr. Von Eisenberg undoubtedly stands preëminent in his profession. It is already known that in his specialty he cannot be excelled, as his skill cannot be overrated, as his treatment is scientific, safe and valuable. We commend the Doctor's treatment to all who are suffering from blindness, deafness, chronic catarrh, diseased throat, asthma, pulmonary diseases, etc., to apply at No. 816 Broadway, with a certainty of being helped at once. Dr. Von Eisenberg has the honesty to give his honest opinion; if it cannot be cured, he will be candid enough to say so.

The Duties of Inspectors and Canvassers.

The Boards of Registry, having completed their labors on the registry lists last night, will meet in their respective districts at thirty-six minutes after 6 o'clock this morning, in the places where the registry lists were made, and having organized by appointing one of their number as Chairman, in each election district, they will open the polls. Three Inspectors of Elections are to constitute a quorum, and if any Inspector fails to appear this morning, his colleagues may appoint another person to act in his stead, and if it shall be shown that any Inspector has wilfully absented himself, and thus left less than a majority of the board at the polls, he is to be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and, on conviction, fined not less than $25 nor more than $100. The Boards of Inspectors may appoint to aid them to-day, and these clerks are to keep an accurate record of the number of persons voting. They are to truly enter in the appropriate column of the poll list, opposite the name of the elector, the street in which the elector resides, and the number, in case the house, lodging or tenement is numbered; and if the same is not numbered, then the clerks shall enter "not numbered" in the column of the poll list for entering the number, and in case of refusal to make the statement as to place of residence, street and number, the vote of such elector is not to be received.

As we have repeatedly said, no vote is to be received to-day (except it be that of a soldier or sailor in the service of the United States) unless the name of the elector appears on the registry list of the district whereat the ballot is offered; and even if the elector's name does appear on the registry list, his vote may be challenged by any elector whose name is recorded on the registry list where the person challenged offers a ballot. And if any elector who is duly registered on the lists of his own election district shall any other registered elector, the Inspectors of Elections may swear (by oath or affirmation) the person so challenged, and require him, under the penalties prescribed for perjury, to make true answers to such of the following questions as may be propounded:

1. What is your name?
2. What is your age (in the case of a young man)?
3. Where do you now reside?
4. How long have you resided in this ward?
5. What was your last place of residence before you came into this ward?
6. Are you a native or naturalized citizen? If the answer is that he is a naturalized citizen, then,
7. When were you naturalized?
8. Where were you naturalized? Before what court or officer?
9. Where are your naturalization papers? If naturalized by reason of the naturalization of your father, state how you know that he is or was a naturalized citizen?
10. Have you ever been in the naval or military service of the United States? If yes, which? Did you serve out your time? Were you honorably discharged? Did you desert? Did you ever leave the district in which you were enrolled, for the purpose of avoiding any draft into the military or naval service of the United States?
11. How many years have you resided in the United States?
12. Did you come into this ward for the purpose of voting at the next election?
13. How long do you contemplate residing in this ward?
14. Have you made or are you directly or indirectly interested in any bet or wager depending on the result of the next election?
15. How long have you resided in this (assembly) district (or ward?)
16. Do you now reside in this election district?
17. (In case of a colored man.) Are you now seized and possessed of a freehold estate of the value of $250 over and above all debts and incumbrances charged thereon, and have you been actually rated and paid a tax thereon?

After receiving answers, in full, to these and such other questions as the case may require, the board are to point out to the challenged person the qualification or qualifications (if any) in the respect to which he shall appear to them to be deficient; and if he cannot swear or affirm that he is not deficient in these particulars, his vote must be rejected.

The Boards of Inspectors have full authority to maintain and to enforce obedience to their lawful commands, during the election, and during the canvass and estimate of votes, after the closing of the poll; and shall have full authority to preserve peace and good order at and around the polls of the election, and to keep the access thereto open and unobstructed; and may appoint one or more electors to communicate their orders and directions, and to assist in the performance of the duties in this section enjoined; and if any person shall refuse to obey the lawful command of the inspectors, or by disorderly conduct in their presence or hearing shall interrupt or disturb their proceedings, they may make an order directing the sheriff, or any constable of the county, to take the person so offending into custody, and detain him until the final canvass of the votes shall be completed; but such order shall not prohibit the person so taken into custody from voting. Such order shall be executed by any sheriff or constable, to whom the same shall be delivered; or if none shall be present, by any other person deputed by such board in writing.

The polls are to be closed at fifty-two minutes past four o'clock this evening; and the ballot-boxes are then to be surrendered to the two of whom for each election district have been appointed and sworn by the Metropolitan Police Commissioners, who alone have power to fill vacancies in the event of the absence of canvassers this evening; and any canvasser who shall willfully absent himself from his duties shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine not less than $25 nor more than $100. The canvassers are to count the ballots and declare the vote as usual; and having done this they will seal the ballot-boxes and report to the Board of Supervisors according to instructions which have already been given by that body.

THE BALLOTS

to be voted for in this city to-day are as follows:

The State ticket will bear the indorsement outside "Number Two—State."

The second ballot will bear on the outside the indorsement, "Number Four—Senator."

The third ballot bears on the outside the indorsement: "Number Five—Assembly."

The next will be the Judiciary ballot, which will be indorsed: "Number Eight—Judiciary."

The last ballot will be indorsed: "Supervisor."

The voters will also be called upon to decide by ballot whether to fund the bounty debt or liquidate it at once. The ballot will read as follows: "For the act to create a State debt to pay bounties," and "Against the act to create a State debt to pay bounties."

The Total Number of Names on the Registry Lists.

Of the two hundred and fifty election districts in the city, is 97,938; the total reported up to the close of the registry offices on Saturday evening last was 85,031, showing that 12,907 electors waited until the last hour before recording their names. We publish below the full and accurate details of the registry, as received by Police Telegraph, showing the number of names on the lists of every election district in the city, and therewith the last Presidential vote:

McClellan's majority, 37,023.

There is little doubt that many persons have registered twice, if not thrice, and many who are ineligible have recorded their names, as is clearly shown in one case in the First District of the Eighth Ward, where Capt. MILLS, on making an investigation, after 9 o'clock last night, found one house which had registered thirteen persons, only six of whom dwell there. The house is No. 454 Broome-street. Our police reports in another column show a case of double registering, the hero of which Justice DODGE has promptly punished.

Hon. John B. Haskin to Major-Gen. Kilpatrick.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In reply to the letter of Gen. J. KILPATRICK, published in your issue of yesterday, I reassert that I never wrote or authorized any person, to write or send him any letter or communication upon any subject. I admitted in my letter published on Sunday last, that I had written a letter to Gen. JOHN A. LOGAN, but not altogether similar to the one I had written to Major-Gen. WM. T. SHERMAN. My issue is not with Gen. LOGAN, but is with Gen. KILPATRICK. I again deny ever having written any letter, or authorized any to be written to him; and will give $500 toward erecting a monument to the memory of Gen. PHILIP KEARNEY, in the State of New-Jersey, the only General from that State, named by me in my Morrisania speech, if Gen. KILPATRICK will produce any letter to him, written or authorized to be written by me, to be submitted with proof to his friend Major-Gen. DANIEL E. SICKLES, for decision, Gen. KILPATRICK to give a like sum, for a similar object, if he fails to produce the letter. To the proof, General, between your statement and mine.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Unofficial Rumors About the Wirz Trial.

The Military Commission Sentence Him to Death.

The Sentence is Approved by the Judge-Advocate.

Decision of the President Expected on Wednesday.

Departure of the Tunisian Embassy from Washington.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Nov. 6.

THE FATE OF WIRZ.

As yet we have no official information as to the disposition of the Wirz case; but we have the best grounds for the belief that the Military Commission passed the sentence of death as their judgment against the accused, and that that judgment has been approved by the Judge-Advocate-General and also by the President. The final decision of the President upon the proposition of the defendant's counsel, to commute the sentence of death to imprisonment for life, will be made public on Wednesday or Thursday next.

Mr. LEWIS SCHADE, Counsel for Capt. WIRZ, called to-day upon the President, asking for an interview in behalf of his client, before the findings of the Military Commission shall be finally acted upon by him. There being a crowd of persons in the room, and the President consequently busy, he informed Mr. SCHADE he would see him on Wednesday upon that subject.

APPOINTMENTS.

The President made the following appointments to-day, viz.: HENRY W. HOLLEY, reappointed disbursing agent, Winnebago City, Minnesota; SAMUEL D. HOUSTON, Junction City, Kansas, reappointed disbursing agent; ASAPH WHITTLESEY, Bayfield, Wisconsin, reappointed disbursing agent; EDWARD HART, disbursing agent, New-Orleans, La.

Total deposits, $518,428 95. The coinage during the same period was: Gold, $266,685 83; silver, $38,885 12; copper, $62,330. Total, $367,900 95.

GEN. GRANT.

Lieut.-Gen. GRANT is going to New-York.

SENTENCE OF COURT-MARTIAL REMITTED.

Twenty-eight members of Company M, Twelfth New-York Cavalry, were in July last convicted in Raleigh, N. C., by general court-martial, of having caused and excited a mutiny at Tarboro, in that State, and were sentenced to be discharged the service, confined at Forts Macon and Caswell at hard labor for the term of one year, with loss of all pay, allowances and bounty due them. Major R. M. TAYLOR, of that regiment, who has earnestly been engaged for several weeks past in behalf of these men, has by solicitation with the President procured the remittal of the sentence. They will therefore be immediately released from confinement with all their allowances of pay and bounty.

THE PARIS EXHIBITION.

The government takes great interest in the Paris Universal Exhibition for 1867, and in common with many prominent citizens, are desirous of a full and creditable representation of our mechanical and artistic skill. It is ascertained from an official source that Mr. J. C. DERBY, No. 5 Spruce-street, New-York, the agent for the exhibition in the United States, has now ready duplicate forms of application for the exhibition, which may be had by addressing him and inclosing a postage stamp for the return.

THE TUNISIAN EMBASSY.

This afternoon the Tunis Embassy called on the Secretary of State, who accompanied them to the executive mansion. The object of the visit was to take leave of the President. The interview continued about twenty minutes, and was of the most agreeable character. The Tunisians have expressed their warmest acknowledgments for the civilities everywhere extended to them, both by the officers of the government and many of our hospitable civilians, and will leave Washington to-morrow for Philadelphia, intending to depart from the United States next week.

A DELEGATION OF LADIES PAYS A VISIT TO THE PRESIDENT.

The delegation of twelve ladies from Baltimore, claiming to represent fifteen hundred of their sex, called on the President to-day, and presented a petition signed by that number of women, asking for the release and pardon of JEFFERSON DAVIS.

MR. F. W. SEWARD.

Mr. FREDERICK W. SEWARD, having sufficiently recovered from his injuries, has resumed his duties at the Department as Assistant Secretary of State.

AGRICULTURAL REPORT.

ISAAC NEWTON, Commissioner of Agriculture, in his report for October says: The threshing of the wheat has shown that the injuries from wet weather were over-estimated. In the report for August the returns of the wheat crop showed in quantity and quality that there was a deficit of 26,241,698 bushels, but the estimates now made, which are final, exhibit the decrease under last year's crop in quantity to be 12,172,994 bushels. The increase in the oat crop in 1865 is nearly 50,000,000 of bushels, and of the hay crop of 5,000,000 of tons. The tables exhibit the Fall crops as most abundant. That of corn is all that could be desired. It will be the largest ever grown in the United States, so that plenty of cereal food will bless the country and the labors of the farmer. The corn crop is equally good in the Southern States, and as planting there is much greater than ordinary, that section can consume only a portion of the amount grown. It can therefore, the Commissioner says, devote the next crop season to a greater production of cotton.

PROMOTION OF COL. CROSMAN.

Col. GEORGE H. CROSMAN has been promoted to the rank of Brevet Brigadier-General, for the fidelity and ability with which he performed the duties of Assistant Quartermaster-General during the late rebellion.

Gen. Fisk and the Confiscated Property.

NASHVILLE, Monday, Nov. 6.

The statement, which appeared relative to turning over property held by the Freedmen's Bureau, was incorrect. Gen. FISK was directed by the War Department not to surrender the property held as abandoned until ordered to do so by the President.

IMPORTANT TO VOTERS OF NEW-YORK.

SHALL THIS COUNTY BE COMPELLED TO PAY A STATE BOUNTY TAX OF $10,894,413 20 NEXT YEAR?

Action of the Board of Supervisors.

THEY ADVISE EVERY CITIZEN TO VOTE "FOR THE ACT TO CREATE A STATE DEBT TO PAY BOUNTIES."

OFFICE OF THE CLERK OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS,
NEW-YORK, Nov. 4, 1865.

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors held this day, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted. J. B. YOUNG, Clerk.

Whereas, By the Bounty Laws of the Legislature of 1865, provision is made for a State tax of thirty millions ($30,000,000) of dollars for the purpose of assuming as a State charge the expense of raising the quota of the State under the call of the President, dated Dec. 19, 1864, for three hundred thousand (300,000) men; and

Whereas, By chapter three hundred and twenty-five (325) of the laws of 1865, appended hereto, provision is made to submit to the people of the State, at the general election to be held on Tuesday next, the question whether such tax shall be made a twelve (12) year loan or not; while, by other laws, it is provided that should the people decide against such twelve (12) year loan, then the whole debt of thirty millions of dollars ($30,000,000) shall be paid in 1866, from moneys to be raised by tax on the assessable property of the State; and

Whereas, The State Comptroller has given the Supervisors of this county the following notice in regard to this, among other matters affecting the tax on this county for State purposes for the year 1866, viz.:

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE, ALBANY, Oct. 10, 1865.

SIR: The Board of Equalization of Taxes, in pursuance of chapter 312, of the laws of 1859, have fixed the aggregate valuation of property in your county at the sum of $622,595,040, upon which amount a State tax of $13,798,262 57 must be levied for the coming year, being 22 13-80 mills on the dollar, for the following purposes, viz:

For schools, ¾ of a mill, per chapter 555, laws 1864.

For general purposes, 2½ mills, per chapter 709 laws 1865.

For canals, ⅞ of a mill, per chapter 85, laws 1865.

For canals, ¼ of a mill, per chapter 271, laws 1859.

For extension of Chenango Canal, 3-16 of a mill, per chapter 185, laws 1864.

For Champlain Canal, 1-10 of a mill, per chapter 186, laws 1864.

For bounties, 1¾ per cent., per chapter 56, laws 1865.*

Your obedient servant,
L. ROBINSON, Comptroller.

* If a majority of votes shall be given at the general election in November, in favor of creating a debt for the bounties, this item will be omitted from the tax-levy and a circular directing its omission will be issued from this office.

And whereas, the following sums represent the amount which this county must raise for State purposes next year, in case the people on Tuesday do not decide affirmatively "For the Act to create a State Debt," viz.:

For what Purpose.	Amount.
For schools, ¾ of a mill, per chapter 555, laws 1864	$466,946 28
For general purposes, 2½ mills, per chapter 709, laws 1865	1,556,487 60
For canals, ⅞ of a mill, per chapter 85, laws 1865	544,770 66
For canals, — of a mill, per chapter 271, laws 1859	155,648 76
For extension of Chenango Canal, 3-16 of a mill, per chapter 185, laws 1864	116,736 57
For Champlain Canal, 1-10 of a mill, per chapter 186, laws 1864	62,259 50
For bounties, 1¾ per cent., per chapter 56, laws 1865	10,895,413 20
Total	$13,798,262 67

And whereas, of this sum of ten millions eight hundred and ninety-five thousand four hundred and thirteen dollars and twenty cents ($10,895,413 20,) required of us for State bounty purposes, it is understood that the whole sum will be expended in reimbursing localities for expenditures in raising their quotas under the last call of the President for men, of which the County of New-York will receive back by way of reimbursement less than the sum of three millions of dollars ($3,000,000,) leaving a sum of eight millions of dollars ($8,000,000) to be paid by this county for State tax, and for which we receive no return whatever; and

Whereas, If the people, on Tuesday next, should not decide in favor of the act to create a State Debt, as contemplated by chapter three hundred and twenty-five (325) of the laws of 1865, the County of New-York will be required to raise, by tax in 1866, the whole of the sum of ten millions eight hundred and ninety-five thousand four hundred and thirteen dollars and twenty cents ($10,895,413 20) for the Bounty Tax, in addition to sundry other amounts, which will swell the total tax on this county, for the year 1866, for State purposes alone, to the enormous aggregate of thirteen millions seven hundred and ninety-eight thousand two hundred and sixty-two dollars and sixty-seven cents, ($13,798,262 67,) and increase the rate of taxation of next year to an absolutely burdensome figure; and

Whereas, It is unquestionably for the interests of the people of this county, whether tax-payers or not—since every citizen is more or less affected by the amount of taxation—that this bounty tax on this county, of nearly eleven millions of dollars, ($11,000,000,) should be distributed over a series of years, to secure which end it is important that the question "for or against the act to create a State debt" should be decided affirmatively at the election on Tuesday next; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Supervisors of the County of New-York do earnestly recommend every citizen of the County of New-York, entitled to vote, to deposit his ballot on Tuesday next for "The Act to create a State debt to pay bounties."

Resolved, That the Committee on Volunteering be and they are hereby directed to have at once prepared a sufficiency of ballots "For the Act to create a State Debt to pay Bounties," to supply all citizens of the County of New-York with a sufficiency thereof for election day, and to distribute said ballots to the General Committees of each of the political parties, on or before Monday next, with a copy of this preamble and resolutions, duly authenticated by the President and Clerk of this board, to the end that those whose duty it is to distribute tickets may fully understand the importance of this subject.

Resolved, That the same committee be and it is hereby directed to have this preamble and resolutions conspicuously published in all the prominent papers of this city until the election, and to use all other judicious measures, by posters or otherwise, to call the attention of every voter to this important subject.

Resolved, That inasmuch as this is purely a financial question without taint of politics, that the press of this city, without distinction of party, are hereby solicited to lend their great powers of quickly disseminating information to the work of bringing this matter to the attention of the people of this county, and their influence to urging every citizen to vote affirmatively on the question "For the Act to create a State debt to pay Bounties."

APPENDIX.

Laws of 1865.
Chap. 325.

AN ACT

To provide the means of paying bounties authorized by law, and of reimbursing municipalities for bounties paid by them in pursuance of law, by creating a state debt for that purpose; and to submit to the people the question of creating such debt, and to repeal certain sections of chapter twenty-nine of the Laws of eighteen hundred and sixty-five.

Passed April 7, 1865; three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New-York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. To provide the means of paying all bounties authorized by law to be paid by this state to volunteers, drafted men, or substitutes, and to provide the means of reimbursing cities, counties and towns for bounties paid by them to volunteers, drafted men, or substitutes, so far as the bounties so paid by them are authorized by a law of this state, to be reimbursed or refunded to them, a debt of this state is hereby created and authorized to be contracted, which debt shall be for the single object of paying, reimbursing, and refunding the said bounties.

SEC. 2. The debt hereby created and authorized to be contracted shall not exceed the sum of thirty millions of dollars, and here shall be imposed, levied and assessed upon the taxable property of this State a direct annual tax, to pay the interest on the said debt, as such interest falls due, which said direct annual tax shall be sufficient to pay such interest as it falls due. And to create a sinking fund for the payment of said debt, there shall also be imposed, levied and assessed, upon the taxable property of this State, a direct annual tax to pay, and sufficient to pay, in the space of twelve years from the time of the passage of this act, the whole of the debt created and contracted under and by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3. To obtain the money necessary for the purposes contemplated by this act, the Comptroller is authorized to issue the bonds of the State, in such sums each as shall seem meet to him, with coupons thereto attached for the payment of the interest on such bonds, at a rate not exceeding seven per centum per annum, half-yearly, on the first days of July and January, in each year, until the principal thereof is payable, at such place in the City of New-York as shall seem meet to him, and the whole principal shall be payable in such place in New-York City as the Comptroller shall deem meet, in twelve years from the passage of this act. The bonds to be issued by the Comptroller, under the provisions of this act, shall be disposed of by the Comptroller as follows: First, he shall, as soon as may be, after the approval of this act by the people, issue at par, to the holders of any of the revenue bonds of this State which, under the provisions of any law of this State, shall have been therefore issued by him to raise moneys for the payment of the bounties specified in the first section of this act, or to reimburse or refund to cities, counties or towns the bounties paid by them, as specified in the first section of this act, so much of the bonds authorized by this act as shall equal in amount the revenue bonds of this State which shall have heretofore been issued by him as aforesaid. Second, he shall then, as to the remainder of the bonds authorized to be issued by this act, before disposing of them or any of them, advertise for proposals for the same, and shall open the proposals and award the same to the highest bidder, at a rate not less than par, which advertising and disposition shall be according to the provisions of law now existing.

SEC. 4. This act shall be submitted to the people at the next general election to be held in this State. The inspectors of election in the different election districts in this State shall provide at each poll, on said election day, a box in the usual form, for the reception of the ballots herein provided; and each and every elector of this State may present a ballot which shall be a paper ticket, on which shall be printed or written, or partly written and partly printed, one of the following forms, namely: "For the act to create a State debt to pay bounties," or "Against the act to create a State debt to pay bounties." The said ballots shall be so folded as to conceal the contents of the ballot, and shall be indorsed, "Act in relation to bounties."

SEC. 5. After finally closing the polls of such election, the inspectors thereof shall, immediately and without adjournment, proceed to count and canvass the ballots given in relation to the proposed act in the same manner as they are by law required to canvass the ballots given for Governor, and thereupon shall set down in writing, and in words at full length, the whole number of votes given "For the act to create a State debt," and the whole number of votes given "Against the act to create a State debt," and certify and subscribe the same, and cause the copies thereof to be made, certified and delivered, as prescribed by law in respect to the canvass of votes given at an election for Governor. And all the provisions of law in relation to elections, other than for military and town officers, shall apply to the submission to the people herein provided for.

SEC. 6. The Secretary of State shall, with all convenient dispatch, after this act shall receive the approval of the Governor, cause the same to be struck off and printed upon slips, in such numbers as shall be sufficient to supply the different officers of this State concerned in notifying or in holding elections, or in canvassing the votes, and shall transmit the same to such officers.

SEC. 7. This act shall become a law when it is ratified by the people, in pursuance of the constitution and the provisions thereof.

LAW REPORTS.

Heavy Insurance Case—Concealment by Insurer.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Before Judge Nelson.

Jonathan Godfrey vs. The Sun Mutual Insurance Company.—This case came on to be tried before Judge NELSON and a jury, on the 31st day of October, and resulted, late on Friday afternoon, in a verdict for the defendants. The plaintiff sued on a policy dated the 24th of June, 1863, issued to him as part owner of the bark Tycoon, for the amount of $10,000, being $8,000 on the hull and $2,000 on the freight, covering only the risk of capture by Confederate cruisers. The defence was rested upon these two grounds: that the plaintiff, when he applied for and procured the insurance, concealed a fact material to the case, which he knew, but which was unknown to the company, and represented that another company (the Atlantic) asked six per cent. premium for doing it, when they had, in fact, refused to take it at a much higher rate.

The Tycoon was built at Mystic in 1860, and sailed from New-York for San Francisco on the 18th of March, and before she sailed the plaintiff insured his portion of her in the Atlantic for $7,500 against marine risks only. The other owners did not insure at all at that time nor for three months afterward. She was burned by the Alabama on the 27th of April, in lat. 10 deg. 55 min. S., long. 31 deg. 25 min. W. Before the 24th of June there was published in some of the New-York papers a report that a boat marked "Tycoon," and branded with the maker's name at Mystic, Conn., had been picked up afloat on the high seas in lat. 10 deg. S., long. 34 deg. W., by the Brazilian ship Rio Grande, which arrived at New-Bedford with the boat on board on the 15th of June. This was the material intelligence which the defendants claimed that the plaintiff had and should have communicated to them when he made his application. The plaintiff testified that when he applied to the company to take the war risk on the Tycoon. Mr. Anthony, the Vice-President, knew about the boat, and remarked that was the ship whose boat had been picked up, and therefore charged him four per cent. premium, being one per cent. more than he would otherwise have charged him. Upon cross-examination, he stated that coming from his home in Southport that morning, he had no idea when he left of insuring his vessel; that on his arrival in town he went to the office of Wakeman, Gookin & Dickinson, who were ship's husbands, and part owners of the Tycoon, and was there informed by Mr. Dickinson that he had made an excellent sale of the vessel, conditioned upon her safe arrival in San Francisco, and he insisted that this was the only reason that induced him to seek more insurance; that soon after hearing this, he started for Wall-street to effect the insurance, and that when he started for that purpose he knew nothing about the boat having been picked up. The defendants gave evidence showing that on the 24th and 25th of June, insurance was effected on the hull and freight of the Tycoon in the different companies, including the policy in suit, to the amount of $69,750, all of which covered the war risk. That on the afternoon of the 23d it was generally known in New-York that the ship Rockingham had been burned by the Alabama on the 23d of April, in lat. 15 degrees south, lon. 32 degrees west; and that the steamer Africa's news published on that day announced that the ship Kent had arrived in London, and reported a large number of other American vessels besides the Rockingham, burned by the same cruiser—no particulars given. That the ordinary course of navigation would have brought the Tycoon into the immediate vicinity of these ravages in about thirty-two to forty days from New-York, or about from the 21st March to the 27th of April. Mr. Dennis, the Vice President of the Atlantic, testified that before the 24th of June, he had happened to hear of the picking up of the Tycoon's boat, and had noted the intelligence in the "disaster-book" of the Atlantic Company, in immediate connection with the report of the burning of the Rockingham. That on the morning of that day the plaintiff came in very early, and asked him to cover his share of the Tycoon against war risk, to the same amount as he already had the marine risks, stating as a reason the good sale that had been made. Dennis asked him how about that boat of her's that was picked up in lat. 10 deg. south, long. 34 deg. west. Godfrey said he did not know about it, whereupon Dennis showed him the "disaster-book," and showed him how near the place where the boat was picked up was the place where the Rockingham was destroyed, and the coincidence in time, and stated to him that his regular premium on war risk to San Francisco was five per cent., but that he considered the risk on the Tycoon a poor one at ten per cent., on account of the boat, whereupon Godfrey withdrew and crossed over into the office of the Sun Company in the same building. Mr. Anthony, the Vice-President of that company, who accepted the risk, swore that at the time it was offered he had heard nothing about the boat, and Mr. Godfrey made no mention of it, but came in and asked him if he would take a war risk on the Tycoon, saying that he wanted $8,000 on the vessel, and $2,000 on the freight; that he had been in the Atlantic, but they had asked him six per cent., but that he would not pay over four, and he gave as the reason why he wished the war risk that they had made a splendid sale of the vessel which they wished to secure. Mr. Anthony, relying upon what he said about the rate asked by the Atlantic, accepted the risk at four per cent., and made it binding at the same interview. The plaintiff positively denied that he said anything to Mr. Anthony about the Atlantic. The defendants, however, called Mr. Walters, President of the Mercantile Mutual Insurance Company, who testified that on the same day, between 11 and 12 o'clock in the forenoon, the plaintiff came to his office and effected $10,000 insurance against the war risk on the same vessel for one of the other owners, saying nothing about the boat, but that the Atlantic Company would take it at six per cent., or at the regular rate. This also was denied by the plaintiff, who stated that when he went to the Mercantile he had not been at the Atlantic office, and had not heard a word about the boat. Before the conclusion of the trial, however, Mr. Godfrey being recalled by his own counsel, testified that he had been mistaken when he stated that he had heard nothing about the boat before starting out for the insurance that morning; that in fact he was informed on his first arrival at the office of Wakeman, Gookin & Dickinson in the morning, by some one of the firm or their managing clerk, that there was a rumor that the boat had been picked up. There was a considerable amount of other evidence, by which the respective parties sought to substantiate their positions on the main questions, whether there had been a concealment of the fact that the boat had been picked up, or a misrepresentation as to the rate at which the Atlantic had offered to take the risk.

The Judge, after detailing the policies of the loss of the vessel, proceeded in his charge substantially as follows:

Now, the main question in the case for our consideration is, whether or not the plaintiff was in possession of knowledge of facts in relation to this vessel at the time of the insurance, which were material and important in estimating the risk and in fixing the proper compensation or rate therefor, and which he concealed or neglected to disclose to the company. If there has been such concealment, a suppression of knowledge as to the dangers of the vessel, or of such information as would naturally excite apprehension in regard to her safety, which would lead a prudent underwriter to hesitate as to the risk, or, if taken at all, would properly enhance it, then the contract of insurance is effected in bad faith, and the assured cannot recover. To permit a recovery under such circumstances would encourage the practice of fraud and imposition upon these companies and upon underwriters, and put an end to good faith and confidence between man and man in all the business affairs of life. Now the main fact relied upon to prove the suppression of material information, is the possession of knowledge on the part of the plaintiff that a boat belonging to the Tycoon had been picked up afloat off the coast of Brazil, in the usual track of vessels bound to San Francisco, in 10 deg. south latitude, and 34 deg. west longitude. This is the fact which, it is charged, was known to the plaintiff at the time he applied for this insurance, and which he concealed from the underwriters. It is said that the separation of a boat from a vessel is not an uncommon occurrence when the vessel is safe and unharmed; hence not a subject that would attract special attention on the part of the owner of the vessel. This, no doubt, may be true as a simple matter of fact or observation; but it is equally true that boats are frequently picked up in cases where the vessel has been lost—more frequently than it happens in cases where she is safe, and hence the fact of the separation must naturally cause fear and apprehension that something unfortunate or disastrous may have happened to the vessel. * * * * Now as to the fact of the knowledge on the part of the plaintiff, that is directly in the line of your examination. The plaintiff when he voluntarily returned to the stand, as you remember, having forgotten a fact that he desired to explain, admitted that he had information on the morning of the 24th, before he went to the Sun office, of the picking up of this boat afloat, with the name of the vessel on it, with the builder's name and the place where it was built. He says that the information, communicated to him that morning at the office of the firm of Wakeman, Gookin & Dickinson, was that there was a rumor or report that a boat of this vessel had been picked up, but that it made no particular impression upon him, and he stated to you that it was not an uncommon occurrence when the vessel was safe. Now admitting that this knowledge on the part of the plaintiff was only based upon the rumor or report, it seems to me and it would occur to the mind of any one, that under such circumstances the owners would at once seek for all the information in the city, or that was within their power. At all events, it was their duty before starting to get the vessel insured to make this inquiry, to follow up this rumor and communicate their knowledge in good faith to the underwriter with whom they were seeking to effect the insurance. Or if they did not do this (and I do not say they were bound to explore this rumor or report,) they were, at least, bound to state their knowledge of the rumor or report to the company, so as to give them an opportunity to make the investigation, and to inquire into the strength and foundation of the report, before they undertook to enter into the contract of insurance. One or other, it seems to me, is fairly required in honest dealing between man and man. I agree that these owners were not bound to go and investigate this report, or ascertain whether there was any truth in it or not, and disclose it to the company; but if they did not do that, they were at least bound to communicate the knowledge they possessed. Then the underwriters might exercise their own judgment in the matter and take the risk with the knowledge of this fact, or institute inquiries for themselves, before they effected the insurance. The plaintiff concedes that he possessed a knowledge of this fact. Now, you recollect that Mr. Dennis, the Vice-President of the Atlantic Insurance Company, was on the stand. He states that the plaintiff called at his office on the morning of the 24th of June, and applied for an insurance of war risk on the Tycoon. He was then advised by Mr. Dennis of the fact that a boat belonging to the Tycoon had been picked up off the coast of Brazil. Mr. Dennis called for the record in his book of losses, and read, or showed, or communicated to the plaintiff the information contained in that book, which was that the Rio Grande had picked up a boat in 10 deg. south lat. and 34 deg. west long., branded with the name Tycoon, and with "J. D. Smith, builder, Mystic, Conn." Mr. Dennis states that he told the plaintiff that this was evidently a boat belonging to this vessel which he desired to get insured; and that he refused to take the risk at 10 per cent., saying to the plaintiff that "it would be a poor risk at that rate." Now, from this office the plaintiff went, merely across the hall, to the Sun office, of course possessing this knowledge, and there applied for the policies in question; and it is charged, on the part of the defendant, that he made no communication to Mr. Anthony, the Vice-President, through whom the policies were negotiated, of the knowledge that he possessed of this boat having been picked up. And the Vice-President states that he had no knowledge of such fact himself, and that the first intimation of such information was received by him from Mr. Dennis, shortly after the insurance, he being in the office at the time, and with whom he had a conversation on the subject. Now, the proof seems full and conclusive that the plaintiff possessed all the information in the city. I mean, including what was communicated to him by Mr. Dennis about the boat of the Tycoon, and had received it under circumstances which must have made a strong impression upon him, for the insurance had been refused for the risk at the ordinary rate in the Atlantic office but a short time before, and 10 per cent. was spoken of as a poor risk. Indeed, I don't understand that it is really claimed on the part of the learned counsel for the plaintiff, or that they intend to put their case upon the absence of this knowledge on the part of the plaintiff, or upon the immateriality of the facts as affecting the contract of insurance; for the plaintiff insists in his testimony that the loss of this boat was the subject of conversation between him and Mr. Anthony in the Sun office. The plaintiff's account of it is that when he made application at the office for the insurance, Mr. Anthony observed: "There is a boat belonging to this vessel that has been picked up afloat, branded with the name Tycoon upon it, which the plaintiff admitted, but regarded it as an unimportant fact so far as regarded the insurance, and putting the case on this ground, to wit, whether or not the fact was communicated by the plaintiff to this office at the time of insurance, then the case is brought down to the credibility of the witnesses; whether or not the plaintiff's memory can be relied upon as to this fact in connection with all the other evidence bearing upon it. Now in opposition to the testimony of the plaintiff there is that of Mr. Anthony, whom you heard on the stand, that there was no such conversation between him and the plaintiff, and that he had not then heard of the picking up of the boat, and that the first information that he had on the subject was from Mr. Dennis on the same day, soon after the policies were executed. There is another item properly bearing upon this question of credibility that it is proper to call your attention to. Mr. Dickinson, one of the firm of Wakeman, Gookin & Dickinson, had requested the plaintiff to get $10,000 insured on the vessel for him that morning, and on his way he called at the Mercantile Insurance Company, and effected it. Mr. Walter, the President, testifies that he said nothing about the loss of the boat at the time, and indeed the plaintiff in his testimony does not swear that he did say anything about it. He agrees with Mr. Walter in that respect. This was on the same day, and but a short time previous to the insurance at the Sun office. At the Atlantic office the plaintiff made no mention of the boat, until it was brought to his notice by Mr. Dennis, according to the testimony of that witness. Now, gentlemen, it is for you to determine whether or not the plaintiff disclosed to Mr. Anthony, at the time of the insurance, the loss of the boat, so that he was in possession of this important information. If he did, then the defence as to the suppression of material information concerning the boat fails. If he did not, then it is very difficult to come to any conclusion that material facts entering into the good faith of this negotiation were not concealed from the officers at the time of the insurance. Now one point more and I have done. That is as to the misrepresentations claimed by the defendants concerning the offers at the Atlantic Office. You recollect that he left this office and crossed the hall to the office of the defendants. Mr. Anthony states that in the course of their conversation as to the war and marine rates of insurance, and whether it should be 4, 5, or 6. The plaintiff told him that he could get an insurance in the Atlantic for 6 per cent., and that if he did not choose to take it at less, he could get it there for that, and that he had refused to give over 4 per cent at the Atlantic. The plaintiff denies that such a statement was made. Now, if you believe Mr. Anthony, that this statement was made to him at the time of the insurance, you see that this is not only a misrepresentation, but a striking one, of facts that occurred at the office of the Atlantic. It is also insisted on the part of the plaintiff that the delivery of these policies by the company to the plaintiff after their knowledge of the loss of the vessel, operates as a waiver of any fraud or misrepresentation connected with the contract of insurance, assuming that to be proved, and the same with respect to the execution of the notes. Now, as you have heard in the course of this trial, the making out of the application to the office for insurance, and the acceptance of that application by the company putting it on file, operates as a contract between the parties, and if they afterward refused to give or execute policies, or to accept notes, or to go on with the execution of the contract—if they refused to do it, a court of equity would compel them to execute the contract. All that follows is a mere matter of fulfillment of contract, merely doing that which the law would compel them to do; a sort of routine business delayed, in consequence of the pressure of business, policies that were to be made out, notes to be signed, entries to be made. In addition to this you have heard that the Sun Company reinsured these risks; and of course if the company in which they had reinsured would take no exceptions to this risk, why they could not refuse a fulfillment even with all this knowledge. Hence that had something to do with the after consideration and action that took place in respect to this contract. We think so far the point of waiver is not material.

The case was submitted to the jury under this charge of the court, and after an absence of about two hours they returned with a verdict in favor of the defendant.

For plaintiff, Mr. Childs and Mr. Goddard; for defendants, Mr. Choate and Mr. Evarts.

Alleged Infringement of a Patent.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

Emma C. Wooster vs. Jason Crane, et al.—BENEDICT, J.—This is a bill in equity filed to recover damages for an alleged infringement of a patent issued Oct. 20, 1863, for a design for a reel.

The article in question is a reel for containing ruffles, ladies dress trimmings and other goods; and consists of two parallel disks of pasteboard connected by four bits of wood on which the ruffle is wound between two pasteboard sides. The pasteboard is cut in the form of a rhombus with the agles rounded, and what the patentee claims is "the design and configuration of the reel."

The statute relied on as giving to the complainant the right sought to be enforced is the act of March 2, 1861. The eleventh section of this act is as follows:

"SEC. 11. And be it further enacted that any citizen or citizens or alien or aliens having resided one year in the United States and taken the oath of his or their intention to become a citizen or citizens, who by his, her or their own industry, genius, efforts and expense, may have invented or produced any new and original design for a manufacture, whether of metal or other material; * * * * or any new and useful pattern or print or picture, to be either worked into or worked on, or printed, or painted, or cast, or otherwise fixed on any article of manufacture; or any new and original shape or configuration of any article of manufacture not known or used by others before his, her or their invention or production thereof, and prior to the time of his, her or their application for a patent therefor; and who shall desire to obtain an exclusive property or right therein to make, use and sell and vend the same, or copies of the same, to others, by them to be made, used and sold, may make application in writing to the Commissioner of Patents, expressing such desire, and the Commissioner, on due proceedings had, may grant a patent therefor, as in the case now of an application for a patent."

I am not aware that any judicial construction has been given to the portion of this act considered applicable to this case. No authorities were cited on either side showing any adjudication upon the question involved. There seems to me, however, little doubt as to what should be the construction to be put upon it, when sought to be applied to a case like the present.

In this case the reel itself is an article of manufacture, is conceded to be old, and not the subject of a patent. The shape applied to it by the complainant is also an old well-known mathematical figure. Now, although it does not appear that any person ever before applied this particular shape to this particular article, I cannot think that the act quoted above was intended to secure to the complainant an exclusive right to use this well-known figure in the manufacture of reels. The act, although it does not require utility in order to secure the benefit of its provisions, does require that the shape produced shall be the result of industry, effort, genius, expense, and must, also, I think, be held to require that the shape or configuration sought to be secured shall at least be new and original, as applied to articles of manufacture. But here the shape is a common one in many articles of manufacture, and its application to a reel cannot fairly be said to be the result of industry, genius, efforts and expense. No advantage whatever is pretended to be derived from the adoption of the form selected by the complainant, except the incidental one of using it as a trade-mark. Its selection can hardly be said to be the result of effort even. It was simply an arbitrary, chance selection of one of many well-known shapes, all equally well adapted to the purpose. To hold that such an application of a common form can be secured by letters patent would be giving the act of 1861 a construction broader than I am willing to give it.

The decree must, therefore, be for the defendant.

Motion for Preliminary Injunction.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Before Judge Nelson.

Samuel H. Doughty vs. James J. West et al.—This was a motion for a preliminary injunction in a suit brought to prevent an alleged infringement of a patent belonging to the plaintiff.

NELSON, C. J.—This motion is founded upon a reissued patent to the plaintiff for a new and useful improvement on skeleton skirts, on the 1st of August, 1865, as assignee of James Draper, the inventor and original patentee; and also, upon affidavits in support of the alleged infringement of said patent by the defendants. The original patent was issued October 4, 1859, and surrendered and reissued on the 27th of December of the same year, and again surrendered when the present patent was issued in 1865.

The claim of the present patent is "for a new manufacture of skeleton skirts, substantially, as described, consisting of a series of tapes woven in the direction of their length in alternate sections, as single and double tapes, with hoops inserted in the loops formed by weaving the tapes, as double tapes, and there secured to prevent the tapes from sliding laterally on the hoops."

None of the previous issues of October and December, 1859, contained this claim. And it is now, for the first time, put forth as the original invention of the patentee prior to the date of the first patent. This the plaintiff must sustain in order to uphold the present patent.

It appears from the affidavits, on the part of the defendants, that a patent had been issued for this same improvement as early as Jan. 6, 1863, or rather for this improvement with the addition of metalic fastenings; and that the defendants are manufacturing their skeleton skirts under this patent; and which will make it necessary for the plaintiff to overcome the inference against him, prima facie, that his subsequent reissue, in August, 1865, was suggested by this patent; for, it seems clear, as stated in the affidavit, that this patent of 1863 embraces the whole of the improvement of this last reissue of plaintiff.

Nearly six years have elapsed since the original patent was issued to Draper, and before he has described and claimed his real invention, according to the theory of this suit. Of course, this delay has had the effect, doubtless, to lead persons engaged in this business to conduct it as if no such claim belonged to him, and may, if his patent is now sustained, work hardship and loss. We agree, however, if he can clearly show that he was the inventor of the skirt previous to the date of the first patent and was the first and original inventor, his patent must be upheld. We say clearly, because the lapse of time cast suspicion upon the case, and courts and juries will require the fullest and most explicit proof of the fact. Of course the case is not one for a preliminary injunction, and the plaintiff must go to his proofs.

Motion for preliminary injunction denied.

Privity of Contract—Demurrer—An Important Opinion by Justice Clerke.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Before Justice Clerke.

Coar vs. The Mechanics' and Traders' Bank, &c.—The plaintiff assigned to one Berrian certain United States securities, to secure about $75,000 of advances to be made to him by Berrian. Berrian assigned the securities to the bank as security for loans made to him; the plaintiff alleging that the bank had collected upon the securities more than the amount of Berrian's advances to him, demanded from the bank the amount of the collections above such advances. Upon the bank's refusal to pay over such amount the plaintiff brought this action, alleging the above facts, and claiming judgment for the amount of such collections. The bank demurred to the complaint, resisting the recovery upon the ground that there was no privity of contract between the plaintiff and the bank.

After the argument on the demurrer before Mr. Justice CLERKE, at the October Special Term, the court overruled the demurrer, and judgment was rendered for the plaintiff.

The following is the OPINION BY CLERKE, J.

When a third party takes securities from a pledgee, without the consent of the pledgor, with a full knowledge of the rights of the pledgor, the law compels him to account for the moneys realized out of these securities, and will compel him to apply the amount to the payment of the debt for which they were pledged and to pay the residue to the pledgor. It is not necessary that there should be any privity of contract between the pledgor and the third party. This is not necessary when a wrong is committed. The law implies an obligation in the wrong doer to repair the wrong, and in a case of this kind equity will compel him to account. Besides, the assignee of a pledgee or mortgagee takes it with the same rights and subject to the same responsibilities as the pledgee or mortgagee.

SUPERIOR COURT—GENERAL TERM.—NOV. 6.

McIver, &c., vs. Greenleaf et al.—This was an appeal to the General Term of this court from a decision rendered at Special Term by Mr. Justice Moncrief, on a motion made to have the examination of young Ketchum taken in this action pending his sentence, he having pleaded guilty to the indictment found by the Grand Jury. The court below decided that his testimony could be taken in a civil action, under the circumstances, and the opposing counsel promptly took an appeal from that decision. The case was fully argued yesterday in the General Term, but nothing new was developed. All the facts connected with the matter have been published in the TIMES. The court took the papers and reserved its decision.

Court of General Sessions.

Before Justice Russel.

The November Term of the Court of General Sessions began yesterday, Judge RUSSEL presiding, and the Assistant District-Attorney appearing as prosecutor for the people.

The following gentlemen were sworn in as Grand Jurors: Wilson G. Hunt, foreman; John E. Andrew, Charles C. Backus, John C. Baxter, Henry Blakely, Samuel S. Constant, Moses Chamberlain, Lewis A. Carmer, Richard M. Everet, Samuel Frankinhimer, Harrison D. Hunt, Louis C. Roppel, John H. Mortimer, George S. Phillips, Richard S. Suydam, James A. Smith, James Wickham, Rufus H. Wood, Thomas Woodward.

His Honor then charged them briefly, enumerating certain acts which were declared by statute to be misdemeanors, and remarking that further there was nothing to which their attention need be particularly called.

The petit jurors present were then sworn in, a fine of $25 being imposed on those not answering to their names.

THE M'CRADY CASE.

A motion to remit the papers in the case of Irene McCrady to the Police Court was argued on the point of jurisdiction as to entertaining the motion.

The District-Attorney opposed the motion on the ground that the court was created by statute, and there was no enactment conferring expressly or by implication the right in question. He desired, in limine, to state that the motion must be carefully distinguished from one to quash an indictment.

Mr. John Graham argued at length in support of the motion. He thought the preliminary objection taken was founded entirely in a misconception of the merits of the motion. If the court had jurisdiction over the papers for any purpose it had for all purposes, and if they were lawfully entitled to make any motion they were entitled to make the one in question. They had an affidavit that showed that the defendant had demanded a statutory hearing in the Police Court, and that the magistrate told her he had sent the papers to the Special Sessions. What was the inference that the law deduced? Why simply that the complaint was not lawfully sent out of the Police Court. The question was whether the transfer of the papers under the circumstances, had legally terminated the jurisdiction of the magistrate. He submitted that the proposition had only to be stated to be scouted. Counsel cited the R. S. and a decision of Justice Edmonds in the Oyer and Terminer, as bearing directly on the point, the latter being a precedent. After further arguments on both sides, the court took the papers and reserved its decision.

The Bank return shows, this afternoon, a moderate gain in Legal Tenders, and a steady movement in Loans and Discounts. The Specie at Bank falls off over a million of dollars, while the difference at the Treasury between the receipts from Customs and payments for Interest of the week is nearly a million and a half in favor of the receipts. The statement indicates a gradual return to ease in the Money market. The current of Legal Tender and National Bank Circulation is at present from the West, but still to the South, though Exchange in the last-named quarter has advanced from 97½ to 98¼ on New-York. The Brokers are readily supplied with Money to-day at 7 ₰ cent. Prime Discounts are 7 to 8 ₰ cent., and fair names 9 to 10 ₰ cent.

The price of Gold opened this forenoon at a slight advance on Saturday's sales, 147⅛@147¼ per cent., but fell back to 147@147¼ per cent. The Foreign Exchanges for the Boston steamer were weaker ⅛@¼ per cent. than for Saturday's mail, particularly on New-Orleans Bank bills on London, which were done as low as 108½@108⅝ per cent. The mails this morning from the South brought forward a considerable amount of bills. Standard Bankers here are drawing at 109@108⅞ per cent. on London, and 5 francs 18¾ centimes to the dollar on Paris.

The Stock Exchange was greatly excited this forenoon by an extraordinary additional rise of one hundred per cent. on Prairie du Chien Railway. As reported in this morning's weekly review, the advance from Saturday week to Saturday last was from 65 to 115 ₰ cent. At the early regular Board this morning the first sale was at 150 and the last at 220 ₰ cent. After the Board broke up 229@230 ₰ cent. was paid for the cash stock, from which extreme point there was a decline to 190@175 ₰ cent. The Bulls in the stock are supposed to have (or had before to-day's settlements) obtained control of the entire capital of 29,880 shares and short contracts for at least as much more. The consequence is one of the sharpest and beyond all precedent the most sudden corner known to the forty years' history of the New-York Stock Exchange. The wisdom, in a pecuniary sense, of a turn so extreme upon the Bears in the stock is much questioned on the Street, and it is not improbable that more net cash would have been realized on the operation by a daily additional rise of 10 ₰ cent. in place of 100 ₰ cent. in half an hour.

The remainder of the Railway list was firm, and one or two of the Western Roads, and also Erie, were especially upward and buoyant. The Miscellaneous Shares were also in speculative demand, including the new Coal Companies and Canton Land Company. The transactions in Cleveland and Pittsburgh Road during the day were over 25,000 shares, at an advance on Saturday's sales of 6@8 ₰ cent., and a fresh movement appeared to be inaugurated in Michigan Southern, which went up 3@4 ₰ cent. The Government Stocks were quiet on the usual investment and Foreign orders. They attract less speculation than a month or two ago, owing, perhaps, to the absorbing interest of the Railway list, in which the greater fluctuations, 2@3@5 ₰ cent. a day are marked. The certificates of the Ohio and Mississippi Road advanced to 31 ₰ cent on heavy purchases for a rise.

In the afternoon, Prairie du Chien sold at the Second Board at 160, and soon after returned to 200@205 ₰ cent. Pittsburgh sold at 89½, and soon after at 93½ ₰ cent. At 4 o'clock the following quotations were made as compared with Saturday afternoon. The market for the Railways was under great excitement, and prices feverish and fluctuating violently from hour to hour. Gold fell to 146⅞ ₰ cent.:

NEWS OF THE DAY.

GENERAL NEWS.

Information has been received by the Toronto Leader, of the safe arrival in Glasgow, of Capt. Bennett G. Burley. Even there, however, it says, he was not free from public annoyance, for on his arrival at Londonderry, he was for some reason or other suspected of being a Fenian leader. He was taken into custody and detained under a strong guard for several hours, when his true character becoming known he was honorably discharged. He is now residing with his friends.

A dispatch from Milledgeville, Ga., of Nov. 2, says that the Governor has transmitted to the Georgia State Convention voluminous documents, advising the State to claim the cotton which was taken possession of by Gen. Sherman's army. The Governor's telegram to Washington on this subject was laid before the convention, and produced much laughter.

A dispatch from New-Orleans says that Gen. Canby has received orders from Washington to muster out of the service as many negro troops as can be spared. Several negro regiments are soon to be discharged, and, in order to prevent insubordination among them, Gen. Canby has ordered that they be not allowed to purchase their weapons.

B. W. Greene, of Hartford, Conn., late President of the Connecticut Fire Insurance Company, in a fit of insanity, on Sunday night, cut his wife's throat with a razor, causing her death in a few moments. He then cut his own throat in two places, and gashed his arm. He is still alive, but there is very little prospect of his recovery.

Gen. Longstreet, while in Washington, declared that the rebellion could and would have succeeded had it not been for the incapacity of Jeff. Davis, whose intermeddling destroyed all their hopes; and that on several occasions he prevented the rebels from taking Washington and making it their base for offensive operations.

It is understood, unofficially, of course, that the Wirz Court-martial sentenced the prisoner to death, and that the Judge-Advocate agrees. The President's decision will probably be promulgated in a day or two. Great effort is being made to have the punishment reduced to imprisonment for life.

The Mississippi Legislature proposes to set apart twenty-five per cent. of the public debt to pay the State debt tax to be levied for the support of disabled Confederate soldiers and the widows and children of soldiers killed in the war.

The bodies of Mrs. and Miss Aubrey—mother and daughter—have been recovered by the divers from the wreck of the propeller Republic, wrecked on Lake Ontario. It is now certain that but three lives instead of seven, were lost by the disaster.

Ohio, like New-Hampshire and Connecticut, will have a double Thanksgiving this year, the one appointed by the President, which is the first Thursday in December, and that named by Gov. Anderson, the last Thursday in November.

It is stated in a dispatch from Toronto that no excitement exists in Canada on the question of Fenianism: but from other sources we learn that this is not the case, and that there is really much apprehension in the Provinces of a Fenian invasion.

The South Bend (Ind.) Register has passed from the hands of Alfred Wheeler into those of A. Beal, Esq. Hon. Schuyler Colfax will continue to make it the medium of communicating with his constituents.

The St. Louis Republican announces that Gen. F. P. Blair has resigned his position in the army, to take effect Nov. 1, and adds that the resignation has been accepted.

A fire in Meadville, Penn., on Nov. 3, involved a loss of from $75,000 to $100,000 and made thirty families homeless.

United States Senator Collamer, of Vermont, is dangerously ill at his residence in Woodstock with congestion of the lungs.

Mrs. Mary Deal died in Albany on Monday, aged 103 years.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Musical Protective Association held a special meeting yesterday afternoon, at the Germania Assembly Rooms, in the Bowery, to consider the present features of the strike now in progress among the theatrical orchestral performers of this city. Owing to the exclusion of reporters, no record of their proceedings can be given; but it is ascertained that they resolved to tax each member of the association $1 per week to help the strikers to hold out. Some slight modifications in their scale of prices were made, but no action was taken on the salaries of members of orchestras. It is understood that the leaders of the different orchestras have retired from the association to enable them to recruit their orchestras from abroad.

The passengers per the steamer Europe from Havre were allowed to come up to the city yesterday. The vessel will be detained at Quarantine for a day or two. The passengers of the Atalanta who are not suffering from sickness will be transferred to a vessel sent down from the navy-yard. Both the Atalanta and Europe will be thoroughly fumigated before being allowed to leave Quarantine. The Commissioners of Health held a session yesterday, and received a communication from Dr. Walser in regard to the fumigation of the vessel and the passengers' baggage.

The Board of Fire Commissioners, at their meeting yesterday, passed a series of complimentary resolutions, on the conduct of those members of the Volunteer Department who continued to perform duty until properly discharged. They passed upon several bills for supplies and repairs, amounting to $25, 823 07, and created the office of Superintendent of Repairs, to be held by the Chief Assistant Engineer, in addition to his other duties, raising his salary to $2,000.

The Board of Supervisors held a special session yesterday. A communication was received from the Police Commissioners to the effect that vacancies in the lists of Inspectors and Canvassers of Election on the day of election, must be filled by the Board of Supervisors.

The return match between the Atlantics of Brooklyn and Athletics of Philadelphia was played yesterday afternoon on the Capitoline Grounds, and resulted in a victory for the Atlantics.

The Street Commission held its third and final session of investigation yesterday. The contractors answered the charges, and the Commission adjudged the case dismissed.

Robert A. Murray, of No. 25 West Houston-street, was committed yesterday, for violation of the Registry Law.

At the Live Stock market, yesterday, the supply of beef cattle was large in numbers, but inferior in quality, which is quite the reverse of the last few weeks, when the cattle were in excellent condition. Prices of all but the choicest grades have declined about ½c. ℔ lb., net weight. The most of the sales, yesterday, were between 13c. and 15c. ℔ lb., net. A large number went as low as 10c.@12c. ℔ lb., and a few as high as 18c. Milch cows and veal calves are in moderate supply at unaltered prices. Sheep are not abundant, and command 7½c.@8c. ℔ lb., live weight. Live hogs bring 13½c.@14c. ℔ lb., live weight, and are not abundant yet this week.

Mr. Henry Pine, of No. 157 Eldridge-street, carpenter, accidentally fell from the roof of No. 18 Thomas-street, and was instantly killed, last evening.

The Stock Exchange was under great excitement, yesterday, from a corner in Prairie du Chien stock, and a general upward movement in the Railway speculation. Government Stocks steady. Money easy. Gold 146⅜ at the close. Exchange 108⅞@109 on London.

Produce and Merchandise were more freely offered, yesterday, and were generally in very moderate demand. Flour, Wheat, Pork and Cotton were cheaper. Freights were quiet.

One Hour for Your Country.

Now that we have a real registry, it need not take more than one hour for any man to vote. Go early, and call for your Republican friends on the way. The polls are open at sunrise, (6:35,) and close at sunset, (4:53.) Vote early—but not often.

The State Debt Vote.

There is one question to be decided by the vote to-day which has commanded far less attention than it deserves. The people are called on to vote "for or against a State debt to pay bounties." Many will very naturally suppose that by voting against it, they will save themselves and the State from incurring a debt. But the debt has already been incurred, and the only question to be decided now is, whether it shall be paid this year, or converted into a debt and paid by yearly installments running over the next twelve years.

The debt amounts to about $30,000,000, and the share of it which falls upon this city is above $10,000,000. If anybody wants to be taxed enough to pay all this debt at once, let him vote "against the Debt;" but don't let him grumble when the Tax Collector calls on him to pay up. If he prefers the wiser and easier course of spreading its payment over the next twelve years, let him vote "for the act creating a State debt to pay bounties."

This is a matter of a good deal of importance, and should receive attention from every voter.

Result of the Registry—Close Challenging Required.

As we suspected, there was a bold push made yesterday to increase the Registry roll for the purpose of getting in a large Democratic vote. Nearly 14,000 names were recorded, most of them doubtless legal voters, but a large number notoriously not so. For instance, from one house in the Eighth Ward thirteen persons were registered, but upon close inquiry after the books closed only six of them proved to be residents there.

Let every suspicious person be challenged, and made to answer under oath whether he is registered in more than one place and whether he has voted. The immense falling off in their rotten boroughs has made the Democracy desperate, and we must guard the ballot-box with renewed vigilance. In the Sixth Ward, where they rolled out 3,437 votes for McClellan to 329 for Lincoln, there are now only 2,835 of both parties registered. So in the first, fourth and fourteenth; the aggregate enrollment in these four wards being only 10,591, while McClellan's vote was 12,266 and Lincoln's 1,835—in all 14,101, or 3,510 more voters than can be found this year.

Look out for double registries and double voting. A fair poll will reduce the McClellan majority in this city fully one-third, possibly near one-half. Let us try to do it, and in so doing give Gen. Barlow the State by a majority worthy of the cause and the man.

The Last Shift of Copperheadism.

To-day the last resort, the forlorn hope, of the Democratic party is to be tested. All other means having failed, it is now to be seen whether there is any saving power in the unheard-of expedient of going to the opposite party for a platform and ticket. Never, in the political history of the country, has there been found such another succession of desperate devices to gain power as the Democratic party has practiced for the last four years. It would have puzzled Machiavelli himself to have conceived a greater variety of expedients for accomplishing a political end.

The first systematic attempt of the Democratic party to retrieve its fortunes, after the lapse of its Southern wing into open rebellion, was by falling in with the patriotic impatience of the people, and clamoring for a more vigorous prosecution of the war. The war, when a new thing, was feebly managed. The people felt it. They became cold toward the administration. They were inclined to trust the Opposition which laid claim to a more earnest spirit; and many thousands of votes were given the party by the sincerest war men. It was thus that Horatio Seymour was made Governor of the State, and it was thus that several State Legislatures were carried. But this method of advancing the party could not last. It was a deception and the people soon saw it. The seditious official language and acts of Gov. Seymour, the amnesty movements made by the leaders of the party in the Legislatures of Illinois, Indiana and New-Jersey, and the tenacity with which the party clung to the feeble-willed McClellan as the leader of the operations against Richmond, made it clear that the party had no desire for "a more vigorous prosecution of the war." The party lost all the ground it had gained. But hard upon this followed another effort. The old national feeling was played upon. The cry of "the Union as it was" was raised. The administration was committing itself to a policy of freedom. This, it was protested, was a breach of constitutional faith, and would destroy every chance of restoring the Union. But nothing was made by it. The people saw in slavery the infernal cause of the rebellion, and welcomed any policy tending to its destruction. Then the old attachments to the great personal right of freedom of speech, and to habeas corpus, were played upon. The people were told that the acts of the administration in arresting men who gave aid and comfort to the rebels by word and act was a subversion of every republican liberty. When the issue was made on that specific point in the case of Vallandigham, the people sustained the government by an overwhelming majority. Then the natural aversion of every free people to conscription was played upon. The National Enrollment Law was denounced for its putting freemen on the footing of serfs. And conjointly with this the jealousies of the poor toward the rich were played upon. The three hundred dollar commutation clause was stigmatized as an atrocious distinction in favor of the men who had money. The passions of the ignorant portion of the people were so wrought up by this clap-trap that they broke out in the terrible New-York riots. But it was all of no avail. The vast majority of the people sustained the government. Then the old prejudices against color were played upon. The placing of black men in the military service to fight under the same flag as white soldiers was treated as proof that the government was against any social distinction between the races. The disgusting term "miscegenation" was invented to characterize the new policy of the government. But the people treated all this balderdash with the contempt it deserved, and gave their heartiest approval to the arming of colored men. Then the natural dislike of all men to heavy burdens of taxation was played upon. The expenses of the war were enormously exaggerated, and frightful pictures were drawn of the crushing ruin that must soon come. But the people went on paying their taxes, and insisting upon war to the last extremity with the same fixed determination as ever. Then came the effort to paralyze the Union party by dividing it through the instrumentality of the Cleveland Convention. The scurrility which had been poured out for years against Fremont and Wendell Phillips was suddenly suspended, and they were lauded as true and consistent devotees of principle. But it was beyond the Copperheads to give any power for mischief to that crazy scheme. Taking into account the fact that the two great campaigns of the year—that of Grant against Richmond, and that of Sherman against Atlanta—had neither of them yet accomplished what the more impatient portion of the people had anticipated of them, the party deemed that the people were in mood for abandoning the war, and, in its convention in Chicago, it formally pronounced the war a "failure." Three days afterward came the unlooked-for news of the fall of Atlanta, and in a week McClellan, the nominee for President, was out with a letter carrying the motto, "the Union at all hazards." Neither shift availed; the election completely prostrated the party. A twelvemonth has passed, and here the party is again upon us with our own watchwords and weapons. In its desperate straits, it imagines that there is yet a chance for it by pretending to be a better supporter of the President and his principles than the party which elected him. The claim is preposterous, and only shows to what an extremity the "Democracy" is reduced. The people will pronounce upon it to-day; and the decision will extinguish the last hope of a party that has been false to itself and false to the country.

North and South—Home Work for Both.

The Louisville Journal is very emphatic in rebuking the "Radicals" of the North for meddling with the negroes of the Southern States, and in exhorting them to "look at home and spend a little more of their humanity there in a practical way and a little less of it in a cheap way at a great distance from home." It charges them with publishing exaggerated reports of the cruel treatment of negroes by the whites of the South, and adds:

> "Thus these radical enemies of order, peace and industry—these enemies of the freed negro—these old enemies of the Union—these people who have so long cursed the constitution—ply their evil trade and keep up their evil practices. They are to-day the bitterest enemies of Andrew Johnson's policy, and the bitterest foes to the heartfelt harmony and permanent repose of the country. They let slip no effort to irritate and exasperate the sections, to exaggerate little things—provided they tend to keep alive geographical antagonisms—and to substitute the rule for the exception, and thus propagate error which always leads, sooner or later, to disastrous consequences. They are the efficient and only allies of the Secessionists and Reactionists of the South—precisely what they have always been."

Beyond all doubt, there is a class of persons in the North who are justly obnoxious to these censures. But the Journal must bear in mind that mere denunciation of them does no good. It only aggravates the evil, and aids in stirring up the strife and animosity at which they aim. The whites of the South have this matter within their own control. The negroes are with them, and, to all intents and purposes, under their control. No considerable portion of the people of the North desire to have anything to do with them. We have quite enough to attend to here at home, and the great mass of our people are quite as much disposed to attend to it as the Journal can be to have us.

But it must also be remembered that the negroes newly freed in the South are in a very peculiar position,—one that places them in new relations with the people of both sections. We of the North should have been very glad to stay at home all the time, but the misconduct of the Southern people rendered it necessary to forego that wish and to give a good deal more of our attention than was at all pleasant, to matters in the Southern States. While there, attending to the rebellion, it was impossible to avoid "meddling" with a great many matters which belonged, perhaps, more properly to the South than to us,—slavery and the negroes among them. That action on our part set these negroes free and made it incumbent on us to guarantee them protection in their freedom and in the enjoyment of the rights and immunities that belong to them. The Journal must not call it "meddling" for us now to seek the fulfillment of that guarantee,—or if it does, it must not hope to dismiss the matter from public thought and action by so doing. But whenever the Southern people will give us good reason for believing that the personal and civil rights of these negroes, who have been freed by the action of the National Government, are quite safe in their hands, we shall not willingly surrender the task of "meddling" with their affairs.

The South has this question wholly in its own hands. It can disarm the "fanatics" of the North utterly, and deprive their efforts for stirring up sectional strife of all effect. It will attain this object by taking prompt and effectual measures to secure to the negroes good treatment, to give them the right to appear in civil courts, and there seek redress of their wrongs, to educate them, to promote thrift and industry among them, and to prepare them for the responsible duties which their sudden enfranchisement has devolved upon them. The moment the South is seen to be doing this heartily and willingly, that moment it will be left in their hands, and all the "fanatics" in the North could not take it out, if they would. But the Journal must remember that if the South will not do this, the nation MUST. It cannot be left undone, and that able and influential paper will accomplish much more toward the object it seeks by stimulating the people of the South to their duty in this respect, than by rebuking and denouncing those of the North. Its influence is much greater in Kentucky than in Massachusetts, —and the real work it has to do is quite as "near home" as that which it commends to "fanatics" in the Northern States.

Support of the President's Policy.

Hon. George T. Curtis, in a speech at Brooklyn, last week, made the following statement of the relation of the two parties in this State to the President's policy of reconstruction:

> "Now, with regard to the other question, which of the two parties is likely to be the one that will give him the most important aid. That depends upon the nature of the questions at issue, and the manner in which the two parties respectively treat those questions. What are those questions? Mr. Johnson's policy is understood to be the immediate admission of the Southern States into Congress without exacting of them any surrender of their constitutional rights of local self-government, and without requiring them, with respect to the blacks, to do anything more than to acknowledge and respect the freedom which has resulted from the exercise of force during a condition of civil war. This policy the Democratic party, without a dissenting voice, adopts and upholds, fully and unequivocally. On the other hand, a large and active and zealous faction or section of the Republican party insists that the negroes of the Southern States shall be made voters, by a compulsory process, to be applied to those States by Congress, when their representatives present themselves to take their seats."

In this we believe Mr. Curtis states, with substantial accuracy, what the Democrats mean by professing to support the President's policy. But it seems to us they are entirely mistaken as to the real nature and scope of that policy, or else they are playing a dishonest game with the people in pretending to support it.

President Johnson is not in favor of the "immediate admission" of the Southern representatives into Congress without certain conditions precedent; and these conditions are just as much a part of his policy as the admission itself. No man and no party can support his policy who does not also support the conditions on which it rests. The President has repeatedly proclaimed to the Southern States that he cannot favor their admission unless they

1. Not only repeal their ordinances of secession, but declare them null and void.

2. Not only abolish slavery within their own State limits, but ratify the Constitutional Amendment by which it is to be forever prohibited upon the soil or within the jurisdiction of the United States.

3. Repudiate the debts, Confederate and State, incurred in the attempt to overthrow the National Government; and,

4. Guarantee to the enfranchised slaves such a status in civil tribunals, as witnesses and parties to suits, as shall secure to them, equally with all other citizens, the full enjoyment of their rights as free men.

President Johnson lays special stress upon each one of these things as absolutely essential, so far as he is concerned, to the admission of Southern representatives into Congress. The Democrats do not. They either ignore or disparage them. They never, in their public speeches or their newspapers, insist on their necessity, or sustain the President in requiring them. On the contrary they misrepresent his policy by pretending that it is for the immediate and unconditional admission of the Southern States—and they denounce the Republicans, and by necessary implication denounce the President also, for resisting such an admission and for requiring conditions of any kind. Even Mr. Curtis himself concurs in this misrepresentation. He has not one syllable to say in support of the fundamental principles of the policy which he professes to support.

Now the Republicans do support this policy precisely as the President himself presents it. They regard these conditions as essential parts of it and as absolutely necessary to the successful working of the general plan. Nor do they attach any more importance to them than does the President himself.

The Democrats seem quite conscious of this marked difference and try to make up for it by charging the Republicans with demanding another condition, namely, the admission of the negroes to the right of suffrage in the Southern States. But Mr. Curtis, with greater fairness than is shown by the leaders of his party, admits it is only a "faction or section" of the Republicans who make this demand, and he knows, though he does not say, that it has been repudiated by the party itself. The fact is, the Union party stands precisely with the President on this subject. With him, it advocates and favors the admission of the Southern representatives upon compliance with these conditions, and not otherwise; while the Democrats dispense with the conditions altogether. Neither the President nor the people can be misled as to the real character of the support proffered by the two parties.

A Good Reason.—One chief reason why the Democratic party will be voted down to-day, is that the great body of the American people are very well satisfied with the administration of the Republican party. They find that the present Republican Administration is vigorous and successful in the days of peace, as it was patriotic and true during the time of war. They find that it is economical in the management of our domestic affairs, temperate in the conduct of our foreign policy, conciliatory toward the South, and equally just in its dealings with all sections and interests of the country. They dread the sort of changes which many of the Democratic leaders are proposing. They do not desire that the national credit should in any way be tampered with, or that we should become the blusterer among the nations, or that the government should be administered in the interest of a section or a faction, or that we should indulge in extravagant or wasteful expenditure. And as the country has learned that an administration which is reasonably satisfactory to all parties, is a rare thing, and a difficult one to be obtained, they will show their approval of our Republican Administration by sustaining it with their votes.

New-Jersey.—We earnestly trust the intelligent people of New-Jersey will make a manly effort to carry their State for the party which will secure the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment by the Legislature. It is exceedingly important that this great measure should receive the indorsement of all the States, and the more promptly this is done the better. The Republican administration and the Republican party favor it with all their hearts. The Democratic party of New-Jersey voted against it in the last Legislature, and are still opposed to it, though some of them pretend to favor President Johnson's policy, one of the chief aims of which is to secure the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment.

An Act of Charity.—If only to put it out of its misery, the Copperhead Democracy should be settled to-day. It got knocked on the head when the rebellion fell, but ever since then it has been attempting by its wriggling to make the people believe that it possessed in full all the elements of vitality. It was defeated in the elections in Maine and Vermont in September, in Pennsylvania and Ohio in October; and it only awaits its final deliverance from further infamy, at the hands of New-York and New-Jersey, in this month of November. Of course Massachusetts and the Western States, in which elections will also be held, will do their duty. After to-day the history of the entire career and bad end of Democracy can be completed.

A Vital Point.—The cholera has already menaced the city, and it is widely feared that we shall have a visitation of it next Spring, if not sooner. To ward it off, or to limit its ravages, it is essential that the city should be put under healthy conditions. It might have been in a fair way toward this by the present time had not the Democracy defeated the Health Bill in the Legislature last Winter. The need of such measures as the bill provided for is now more imperative than ever, and whether or not we shall have them in operation by next Spring, depends upon the kind of men who are now sent by us to the Legislature.

The Judiciary.—Whatever may be said of the chances of election, the Union candidates for the Superior Court are men of character, ability and eminent fitness for their positions. Two are to be chosen, and as the Democrats have three candidates and the Union men but two, it is by no means impossible that one at least of the latter may succeed. Both Hooper Van Voorst and Isaac Dayton are worthy of the place, and will discharge its duties with integrity and success.

Seventh Senate District.—In the Seventh District the contest is distinctly between Murphy and T. C. Fields. The other Democratic candidate, Mr. McLean, will draw off votes enough from the latter to render Mr. Murphy's election reasonably certain, if the Union men stand by him. There is every reason why they should; for there is no worthier or better candidate running for any office than Thomas Murphy.

Political Counterfeiters.—The Democratic managers fancy that they have succeeded in making such an excellent counterfeit for popular currency this in election, that they will completely deceive the people with it. They might do so, if folks were not aware of their counterfeiting operations, and if the spurious article were not so easily detected by its face.

Fourth Senatorial District.—It was reported yesterday that Michael W. Burns, the Republican candidate for Senator in this district, had withdrawn. It is not true; Mr. Burns stands by his colors to the last. Let him have a generous and victorious support.

Gen. Sherman on Copperheads.—The following letter from Gen. Sherman on the men who opposed the war while there was any fighting to be done, and now claim all the honors of victory, was read by Gen. Kilpatrick at the Brooklyn mass meeting, last Saturday:

Gen. Judson Kilpatrick:

Dear Sir: I have observed with interest your political conflict in New-Jersey. It is really provoking, hardly worthy of a serious thought, but rather of satire and ridicule, the squirming of the politicians called Copperheads, who opposed the war from every conceivable motive. Some from sheer cowardice, others to oppose a political party. Some because they thought we could not whip the South, and now that it is reduced to demonstration, have hard work to explain their conduct even to themselves. I have no patience with that class of men, and believe the people of the South have more respect for us who belabored them soundly, than for the Copperheads, who, nominally their friends, led them deeper and deeper into trouble.

W. T. SHERMAN, Major-General.

Assembly.—Morris A. Tyng has been recognized and declared by the Union Central Committee to be the regular Union candidate for Assembly in the Eighteenth Ward. Mr. Tyng is the only candidate who can defeat Tucker in this ward. A vote for any other candidate is a vote for Tucker. Let all true Union voters recollect this, and not throw away their votes.

Seventeenth Assembly District.—Theodore Theron, candidate of the United Service Society for the Assembly, declines in favor of the Union candidate, Charles E. Jenkins.

Amusements.

Academy of Music.—To-night the exceedingly successful opera of "Crispino e la Comare" will be [illegible] for another time. We need say nothing in [illegible] of a work which has been received with such unanimous applause and well-merited favor.

"Robert le Diable" was repeated last night to a house that was evidently affected by the election. The performance was not an improvement on the first night.

Howe's Great Circus in Brooklyn.—The people of Brooklyn were yesterday treated to a grand parade of Howe's Circus Company. In the procession were a number of magnificent tableau carriages, &c. In one of these an enormous lion, couchant, glared upon the people who followed him, from the midst of a group of pretty girls, dressed a la cirque, and in another, a grand allegorical tableau, representing the four quarters of the globe, was formed. Following the carriages came the large cage containing Crockett's lions, with whom Mr. Pierce does most extraordinary things; and following this was a grand cortège of knights, "clad in complete steel," and ladies dressed after the fashion of "the period"—never mind which—attended by squires, men-at-arms, &c., the whole forming a gorgeous and glittering display, altogether novel to behold. The circus gave two performances yesterday at the junction of Dekalb and Fulton avenues, and the performances of the circus company, the Bedouin Arabs, the performing lions, &c., gave great satisfaction. It will remain in Brooklyn for a short season, giving two performances daily.

Union Mass Meeting at Elizabeth, N. J.

Last evening the Unionists of Elizabeth, N. J., held the largest mass meeting ever witnessed in that city. The people turned out en masse and manifested great enthusiasm. Eloquent and stirring addresses were made by Hon. Frederick Frelinghuysen, A. W. Tenny and others, on the political issues involved in the present political canvas, and the meeting adjourned at a late hour with enthusiastic cheers for Marcus L. Ward.

FROM TENNESSEE.

An Affray at Nashville—Case of Embezzlement—Cotton Market.

Nashville, Monday, Nov. 6.

An affray took place on the street to-night between Ex-Mayor John Hugh Smith and a police officer named Brown. Two shots were fired by Smith without hitting Brown. One of the shots barely missed a lady who was passing, and a man who was on the other side of the street.

Another case of embezzlement and fraud has recently been developed, committed by J. H. Ogden, for a long time clerk of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad. The books of the road show a deficit of over $6,000. Last Tuesday he absconded, going to Atlanta, Ga., whence the detectives traced him, and he was brought back to-day and lodged in jail. A fast woman is said to be at the bottom of the affair.

The river is 19 inches deep on the shoals, having fallen two inches since last report.

Cotton dull. Receipts to-day, 600 bales; shipments, 550 bales. Prices range from 45½c.@46c. Little disposition to purchase at these rates is shown by dealers.

Interesting Relics Found—Pardons for Notorious Rebels.

St. Louis, Mo., Monday, Nov. 6.

A box of Claib. Jackson's headquarters papers, found at Eufala, Ala., have been received at Jefferson City and turned over to to Adjt.-Gen. Simpson. Among the papers are Sterling Price's commission for Jackson as Major-General of the Missouri State Guard, dated May 13, 1861, three days after the capture of Camp Jackson; the Senate journal of Jackson's bogus Legislature at Neosho, which with less than half a quorum passed the so-called ordinance of secession, appointed representatives to the rebel Congress, and many letters from prominent citizens of the State revealing their complicity in Jackson's treason.

Gov. Fletcher has received pardons from the President for several Missouri rebels, including Gen. Frost, Commander at Camp Jackson; Dr. Patton, of water-poisoning fame; John W. Reid, whilom member of the National Congress, and George West, the most violent and the ablest rebel in Jackson's Legislature.

From Toronto—A Contradiction.

Toronto, Monday, Nov. 6.

The "special" sensation telegrams from this city in reference to excitement caused by Fenians, may be regarded as the productions of some one with a lively and excited imagination, there being no excitement whatever. The feeling is that government is quite able to deal with any Fenian projects that may be hatched here or elsewhere.

The banks have an extra guard, as quite a number of daring burglaries have recently been perpetrated.

It is reported that the volunteer armories are well guarded.

The daily papers have an occasional article on the Fenians of a derisive character; beyond this there are no signs of the alleged excitement.

The weather is cold and stormy. There was a hurricane last night, and, it is feared, considerable damage occurred to vessels on the lake.

From Buffalo—Fatal Bridge Accident.

Buffalo, Monday, Nov. 6.

An iron bridge on Washington-street broke through this morning, precipitating a wagon loaded with iron castings into the canal. Two valuable horses were drowned, and one man had his leg broken.

There was a light fall of snow yesterday, and it is cold and blustering to-day.

Fires.

THE METROPOLITAN GAS COMPANY'S COAL, at the foot of West Forty-second-street, was again on fire yesterday, and last evening another of their sheds was consumed. The company are striving to save the coal by moving the untouched part of it to another yard. The loss has not been estimated.

IN SIXTH-AVENUE.

At about noon, yesterday, fire of unknown origin was discovered in a room on the third story of No. 26 Sixth-avenue, occupied by Mrs. Eliza James, and used for storing furniture. The flames were extinguished with damage not exceeding $500. The building, owned by Mrs. O'Reilly, is not insured.

IN FIFTEENTH-STREET.

Fire of unknown origin was discovered at about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in E. Emory's dwelling, in the basement of No. 158 West Fifteenth-street. The building, which is owned by Mr. B. Hutchinson, may be repaired for $100.

The St. John Explosion.—Coroner Wildey will hold an inquest to-morrow on the bodies of the victims of the St. John explosion. The investigation is to be made in the chamber of the Court of Special Sessions, at the Tombs, and is to be opened at 9 o'clock A. M., and concluded, if possible, on the same day.

City Mortality.

From the mortality report for the past week, it appears that 413 deaths occurred in the city during that time—98 men, 87 women, 130 boys and 88 girls—being a decrease of 35 as compared with the previous week, and of 4 as compared with the corresponding period of 1864. The mortality by the principal diseases was as follows:

DECLINE IN AMERICAN SECURITIES.

GENERAL CONTINENTAL NEWS.

FATHER POINT, Monday, Nov. 6.

The steamship Peruvian, from Liverpool Oct. 26, via Londonderry Oct. 27, arrived off this point at about 6 o'clock this evening.

The steamship Aleppo, from New-York, arrived at Queenstown on the 24th.

The steamship City of Limerick, from New-York, arrived at Queenstown on the 25th.

The steamship City of Washington, from New-York, arrived at Liverpool on the 25th.

The steamship Allemannia, from New-York, arrived at Southampton on the 25th.

The steamship Belgian, from New-York, arrived at Liverpool on the 26th.

GREAT BRITAIN.

FUNERAL OF LORD PALMERSTON.

Lord PALMERSTON's funeral preparations are rapidly approaching completion. It had been decided by the express wish of Queen VICTORIA that he should be honored with a public funeral in Westminster Abbey. Most of the towns will be represented by deputations. Business in London will be almost entirely suspended. The Stock Exchange will be closed. The Queen's carriage leads the cortége. The pall-bearers will be ten Cabinet Ministers. The Prince of WALES will attend at the Abbey.

HONORS TO LADY PALMERSTON.

It is reported that Lady PALMERSTON will be created Peeress in her own right.

THE CABINET.

Queen VICTORIA was expected to reach London from Scotland on the morning of the 29th.

No official announcement had been made concerning changes in the Cabinet, but an official announcement would be made on the 30th.

The Globe says the Queen had expressed the wish that RUSSELL would accept the Premiership. RUSSELL had received cordial assurances of support from all his colleagues.

The Globe believes CLARENDON will take the Foreign Office.

Public opinion generally favors RUSSELL.

The Times, which at first favored GLADSTONE, had rather veered around, making it appear that the only reason and necessity for RUSSELL's appointment was because England had still to settle with America to their mutual satisfaction, and RUSSELL was well posted on the subject, and had a reputation to lose by base compliances or needless war. Viewed in this light, he was necessary.

The Morning Post is apparently going into the opposition, and says: "The feeling of the country toward Earl RUSSELL's Ministry will be one of total apathy. The country will see little to praise or condemn. It will be no easy matter to reconstruct his government in the House of Commons; but he must certainly introduce some fresh elements to retain the majority nominally acquired.

The Advertiser thinks it will be impossible for GLADSTONE to work the House of Commons unless with more help than is visible.

The Herald says if RUSSELL makes any radical move the conservatives will certainly lose no opportunity to checkmate him.

MR. SEWARD'S REPORTED ULTIMATUM.

The Paris correspondent of the Times reiterates the statement that Mr. SEWARD had sent a dispatch to the French government. The African project was thought of; but owing to the insurrection in Soudan, troops could not be spared, so the project fell through.

The Times says if America had reason to think such a scheme had been proposed, she was fully justified in remonstrating. Apart from the introduction of Mussulman troops into Mexico, America had no just complaint against France. It is quite certain that the occupation was temporary, solely directed to the maintenance of MAXIMILIAN's throne.

AMERICAN SECURITIES.

The Committee of Control of the Austrian Debt were about to have an interview with the Emperor, to present objections to their removal from office. It was expected that the Imperial consent would be given to the new regulations proposed by the committee.

It was reported that the Austrian Council of Ministers had resolved to concede a separate Ministry to Hungary.

The statement that Austria was raising troops for Mexico had been modified. Negotiations were pending for permission to fill vacancies at Mexican expense.

FRANKFORT.

Austria and Prussia have addressed a severe remonstrance to the Senate of Frankfort as the source of the coarse attacks on the two principal German powers, and threaten the Mayor and Senate with intervention should further meetings of delegates be permitted.

Frankfort had energetically repelled the imputations of Austria and Prussia, and the Frankfort Senate had determined to uphold the independence of the city. It was thought the case is one of attempted spoliation.

POLITICAL.

DON'T BE DECEIVED!

An attempt is now being made to induce
THE UNION VOTERS OF THE
SEVENTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

to throw away their votes by supporting GEORGE W. McLEAN for State Senator, under cover of a circular purporting to be signed by several well-known Union men as members of the CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION.

This cheat has been exposed, and will only result in bringing out the full Union vote of the district for

THOMAS MURPHY,
The regular Union candidate.

No intelligent Union man will cast his vote for a supporter of

HORATIO SEYMOUR, or for an indorser of
THE CHICAGO PLATFORM,

not even to oblige the "rings," railroad jobbers, or any other wing of our city corruptionists.

Every loyal Union man in the upper part of the city will cast his vote for the candidate who stood by his country and his flag in the hour of danger; whose influence and money were always used on the side of the government and the war for its preservation.

THOMAS MURPHY,

COPPERHEADS AND TRAITORS

will naturally prefer to cast their ballots for candidates who

OPPOSED THE WAR.

All that class of voters may very properly choose between FIELDS and McLEAN; but as for Union men, there can be no hesitation as to the propriety and necessity of supporting the regular Union candidate, a man who did not support Horatio Seymour and the Chicago platform, nor encouraged armed rebellion against the national integrity.

THOMAS MURPHY,

The Citizens' Association dodge to secure Union votes for Copperhead candidates for office will not succeed in the Seventh Senatorial District.

EIGHTEENTH WARD.
ASSEMBLY NOMINATION.

Reports being circulated by the opposition that I have declined, I give notice to my friends not to trust any such reports, and that I shall remain in the field until the close of the poll on the day of election. I desire the votes of all lovers of law, order and good government.

CHARLES H. SMITH,

Nominee of Citizens' Association and anti-ring branch of Union party. Nov. 6, 1865.

REGULAR UNION NOMINATION.

BEWARE OF LIES!

I am in the race to win, and will withdraw for no man.

If beaten, I shall die game.

TO THE UNION VOTERS IN THE SEVENTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

My name to my surprise has appeared in the daily papers attached to a card recommending Geo. W. McLean to the support of the Union voters of the Seventh Senatorial District.

While esteeming that gentleman as a neighbor and a citizen, I take this method to inform the voters of this district that I have never signed such a card or authorized any one to do so for me, and that this use of my name was without my knowledge or consent. Intending to support Thomas Murphy for Senator in this District, I would recommend all loyal Union voters to do the same.

REGULAR UNITED SERVICE NOMINATION.
SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' CANDIDATE
For Supervisor,
ANDREW BLEAKLEY.

TO THE VOTERS
OF THE TWENTIETH WARD.

The undersigned, entertaining various political opinions, but being utterly opposed to the Rings and corrupt machinery, by which ignorant, dishonest and unscrupulous men are enabled to ride into power, for the sole purpose of enriching themselves by robbing the public—respectfully invite you to unite with them in voting for OLIVER CHARLICK for MEMBER of ASSEMBLY.

We ask you to vote for Mr. CHARLICK solely on his merits as an old, intelligent and substantial citizen of the ward, well versed in the wants of the city, and the legislation of the State. The many failures in the past to elect proper men to the Assembly, may be attributed to the fact that the good citizens of the ward were not united and had no proper organization behind them. This difficulty has now been overcome. Mr. CHARLICK is supported by a strong and enthusiastic organization, embracing many of the best citizens of the ward, who being disgusted with the corrupt manipulations of dishonest politicians, have broken loose from old party ties, and have agreed to unite in a vigorous effort to return a competent and substantial citizen as member of Assembly from this district—independent and above all party considerations.

If the respectable and tax-paying citizens of the ward will thoroughly coöperate in this movement, we are confident that OLIVER CHARLICK, the Citizens' candidate, will be triumphantly elected to represent the Twentieth Ward in the next session of the New-York Legislature.

A CARD FROM HON. T. C. FIELDS.

In reference to an anonymous publication entitled "Startling Facts," charging Thomas C. Fields with certain public corrupt measures, which have been repeatedly denied, and the utter falsity of which has been proved as often as charged, this means is taken of informing the voters of the Seventh Senatorial District, that the document in question is as cowardly as it is secret, and as false as it is unfounded.

THOS. F. MORRIS, Esq., Transfer Officer.
21,871 acres of petroleum and mineral lands, (in Johnson, Magoffin, McLean, Davies, Ohio, and Barren Counties, Ky., and Pope County, Ill.,) selected with the greatest care by gentlemen of experience in the production of oil. Lands fully reported upon by Prof. Hagar, of Vermont, (State Geologist,) and Dr. George W. Shumard, formerly United States Geologist to the United States exploring expedition to the sources of the Red River, and State Geologist of Texas.
The lands in Magoffin County are near the great Burning Spring of Kentucky, several oil springs exist on the premises; in Barren County are near developed property producing respectively in two wells 50 and 75 barrels daily; in Pope County, Ill., is a portion of a region formerly reserved by the United States Government on account of valuable leads of lead which cross the Ohio River at that point.
TEN WELLS are now under contract, part going down upon this property, and energetic measures are in progress for the rapid development of the valuable resources of this company. Report (official) from Wells Nos. 1 and 2, Oct. 8, says: "Oil is visible in Well No. 1; it could be seen yesterday plain in the borings;" and Oct. 10 says: "No. 2 is 51 feet, and has some oil. Some eight or ten gentlemen were here to-day, and said they never saw better prospects for oil. The smell of petroleum is as strong on the borings as at the flowing wells."
The recent large strikes in Kentucky must convince the most skeptical that this State bids fair to rival Pennsylvania in the production of oil. Within the last sixty days two wells, respectively of 1,500 and 2,000 barrels development, have been struck upon lands lying upon the Cumberland. A dispatch from Louisville, Nov. 2, to Mr. J. L. Smyser, says: "If you have not sold your interest in Sacramento Company, withdraw it. Another 2,000 barrel strike near the big well."
Prospectus showing in detail descriptions of the property of this company, embracing full reports from Prof. Hagar and Dr. Shumard, copy of the act of incorporation and by-laws of the company, and further information and specimens of coal and lead taken from lands of this company can be seen at the office of Mr. THOMAS F. MORRIS, Transfer Officer, No. 7 Wall-st., N. Y.

THE CHOLERA.

The Well Passengers of the Atalanta to be Transferred to Another Vessel—The Steamship Europe to be Fumigated—Her Passengers Allowed to Come to the City—Correspondence between the Mayor and the Passengers of the Atalanta—Meeting of the Commissioners of Health.

Yesterday, Senator MORGAN received a telegram from the Secretary of the Treasury, stating that Commander BELL, of the Brooklyn Navy-yard, had been directed to place at the disposal of the Commissioners of Health one of the captured blockade-runners, for the purpose of receiving such of the passengers of the Atalanta as were not suffering from sickness. During the day, Mayor GUNTHER accordingly made a requisition on Commander BELL for a suitable vessel, which will be dispatched to the lower bay as soon as practicable.

The following communication from the passengers of the Atalanta, was received by the Mayor yesterday:

ON BOARD THE ATALANTA, Nov. 5, 1865.

To the Hon. Mayor of New-York:

Allow us, the undersigned passengers of the steamship Atalanta, now lying in Quarantine in the lower bay of New-York, to have recourse to you in the trying position in which we find ourselves, petitioning you to use your potent influence in our behalf. Reports have been circulated, and we fear too readily believed, to the effect that the steamer is infected with cholera. As weighty reasons induce us to believe that such is not the case, we would most humbly petition your Honor to appoint some committee to investigate our condition, and to ascertain its true and real character, as we do not think that the opinion of one man should have weight enough to decide in a case of such importance.

We would most humbly submit to your Honor's condescension, that if the before-mentioned disease be not on board, it would be an act of humanity to release us from the suspense into which its apprehension has naturally thrown us, and to do all that it is possible to allow us to proceed to the place of our destination; on the other hand, if the ship be really infected, would it not be advisable to adopt measures to have us transported to some place where the danger of being infected would be much less, and the hope of eradicating the disease much greater. Such at least is our opinion.

It would seem to us indeed that humanity demand that over 500 passengers should not be left in a place exposed to the danger of being swept away by a disease so terrible, on account of the ravages it everywhere makes. Induced by these considerations and the welfare you undoubtedly take in the interest of your fellow-beings, and the influence you exert in the great city of which you are the head, we are assured that you will spare no exertions, and will admit no opportunity of helping us in our critical position and gratify the petition we have brought before you.

At a meeting which was convened on board this steamer by the passengers, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That had the disease been cholera, as has been supposed by some, that its fatality would have more than decimated the passengers and crew of this vessel; and that the public mind of the citizens of New-York has been misled and excited against us, from the excessive exaggeration of the New-York press.

THE MAYOR'S REPLY.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, Nov. 6, 1865.

To Dr. Turner, Messrs. Jones and others, passengers by the Steamer Atalanta:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th inst., representing the hardships of the condition in which you find yourselves, and sincerely sympathize with you. Arrangements have been made to place the passengers of the Atalanta on board a steamer to be sent down from the navy-yard, and every means will be afforded for their comfort during the period of detention. The utmost dispatch will be used in fumigating the Atalanta, and the baggage of the passengers, and I hope that at an early day they will be permitted to leave for their places of destination.

The question whether the disease which has appeared so unfortunately on board the Atalanta is cholera or not is not within my province to decide; it rests with the authorities of quarantine.

In conclusion I beg to state that I will do all in my power to alleviate the discomforts of your detention and shorten its duration.

I am, with great respect, your humble servant,
C. GODFREY GUNTHER, Mayor.

COMMISSIONERS OF HEALTH.

A meeting of the commissioners was held yesterday afternoon in the Mayor's office.

They Mayor stated that a vessel would be sent from the navy-yard to receive such of the passengers of the Atalanta as were not suffering from any sickness.

A communication was received from the Health Officer in relation to the steamer Europe, from Havre, now detained in the lower bay. The Health Officer says:

"After full consultation with you on Saturday as to the best course to pursue regarding the steamer Europe under these circumstances, we concluded that although the vessel sailed from Havre, (one of the ports named in the resolution of Friday,) and had many passengers from Paris, where cholera exists, yet as no symptoms of the disease had been developed through their unusually long and boisterous passage of fourteen days, that after disinfecting the clothing and baggage in the state-rooms, the passengers might safely leave with the same for this city; after which the remainder of the baggage and cargo might undergo purification, and finally the vessel. By these means as little detention as possible was offered to the operations of commerce and to the comfort of the passengers, at the same time securing ourselves against infection. On Sunday, 5th inst, I visited the steamer in company with Drs. DOREMUS and WILKINSON, taking with us the requisite means of disinfecting. All the clothing and baggage in the state-rooms was transferred to a suitable part of the vessel and purified with the proper agents. The passengers and their purified baggage will leave for New-York this (Monday) morning, after which the residue of the baggage, the cargo and the vessel will be held, as we decided. The full period of five days, as prescribed by previous resolution, concerning vessels from infected ports, will be completed to-morrow, and if it meets with your concurrence the vessel will then be permitted to proceed to New-York."

The Atalanta will be detained in the lower bay for some time, and her passengers will not be allowed to come up to the city until all danger of the cholera breaking out among them is past.

Correspondence Between Gov. Fenton and the Commissioners of Quarantine.

The following correspondence between Gov. FENTON and the Commissioners of Quarantine, is of interest at the present time:

ELMIRA, Nov. 4, 1865.

GENTLEMEN: Just as I was leaving the Capital, a few days ago for your city, I received a communication from the Surgeon-General United States Army, City of Washington, inclosing a number of the Medical & Surgical Reporter, containing an article upon Asiatic cholera, embracing suggestions in reference to quarantine, to which I deem it propar to direct your attention.

I append a copy of the note of the Surgeon-General as an evidence of the solicitude which is felt by the officers of the General Government in regard to the anticipated appearance here of the pestilence which is now ravaging many portions of Europe, and which medical men confidently predict will soon make its appearance upon our shores.

To you the law has committed the duty of making provision for the care of those who, through the commerce of our metropolis, may be brought into the State afflicted with this disease. In an interview with the Health Officer on the afternoon of the 2d instant, (but too near the hour of my departure for this place on the way to my home at Jamestown,) for consultation with you, he advised me of your willingness and anxiety to coöperate with him in everything which can judiciously be done to guard against the approach and spread of this pestilence; but he also expressed the apprehension that a want of sufficient appropriations might prevent you from providing such facilities as should be deemed necessary to enable him to properly discharge his duties. Such an exigency as would exist in the event of the appearance of cholera here could hardly have been considered by the Legislature in making appropriations for the support of quarantine the current year. But inasmuch as the law has imposed upon you the duty of making suitable provision for cholera patients under quarantine jurisdiction, I think you may safely rely upon being sustained by the next Legislature in whatever you may reasonably do in the performance of this duty. I do not as well know as yourselves, nor is it my purpose or province to suggest what ought to be done in such an emergency. It may be upon us before you can invoke legislative action. Having entire confidence in your intelligence, discretion and interest in this behalf, I shall cheerfully recommend to the Legislature an appropriation to meet any liability you may incur for this purpose.

I am glad to know that the Health Officer (Dr. SWINBURNE) has attracted honorable metnion in the discharge of the responsible duties of his position, and that he is unwearied in his efforts in connection with your board and other authorities of the City of New-York, relating to the sanitary condition of the city. I herewith submit a copy of the letter of the Surgeon-General of the United States Army, to which reference has been made:

[COPY.]

GOV. FENTON—Sir: I have the honor to inclose a number of the Medical & Surgical Reporter, containing an article upon Asiatic cholera, transmitted to the Department of State by our Minister at Constantinople, which is the more interesting as the experience of the war has shown that rigid quarantine enforced by military authority has proven a protection against the importation of contagious or infectious disease along our Southern seaboard.

In this connection permit me to congratulate you upon the energy and efficiency displayed by your present Health Officer in New-York harbor, Dr. JOHN SWINBURNE, and to express the conviction that if sustained in the exercise of the necessary precautionary measure, he will be fully equal to any emergency that can now be anticipated.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
S. K. BARNES, Surgeon-General U. S. Army.

The report to which reference is made contains many valuable suggestions, which are calculated to aid you in determining what provision ought to be made, and what treatment vessels and persons under quarantine should receive. The following appear to me exceedingly pertinent and valuable, based upon the opinions of the writer, that cholera is eminently contagious:

1. Quarantines ought to be located at a distance from towns and populous centres, and where possible, on islands.

2. Passengers should never be permitted to pass their quarantine on board of vessels.

3. Spacious and thoroughly isolated lazarettos should be established at suitable points.

4. Every lazaretto ought to have a hospital entirely separated from the principal edifice.

5. Sanitary physicians attached to the lazarettos, and whose number should correspond to the importance of the station and the circumstances, ought to be in constant attendance on the inmates; and they should have reliable assistants always on duty at the bedside of the patients, to report their actual condition.

6. If a case of cholera has occurred on board a vessel the crew ought to be landed, and put in the lazaretto, and those suffering from diarrhea be sent to the hospital. The vessel should undergo a thorough purification, as is practiced with regard to vessels contaminated with yellow fever—after twenty-five days the crew may return to the vessel; but she should remain under the strictest medical surveillance for a further period of fifteen days.

7. The linen and clothing used by cholera patients during illness, (and of course, that also belonging to those persons who have suffered from choleriform diarrhea,) must be destroyed, and the hospital be disinfected.

8. All communication with lazarettos and vessels in quarantine must be severely interdicted, and every extravention of the quarantine regulations punished with severe rigor.

I commend these views to your careful consideration.

Very respectfully,
R. E. FENTON.

CYRUS CURTISS, Esq., President Commissioners of Quarantine, No. 98 Broadway, New-York City.

REPLY OF THE QUARANTINE COMMISSIONERS.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF QUARANTINE COMMISSIONERS,
No. 98 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK, Nov. 6, 1865.

To His Excellency Gov. Fenton:

SIR: The Board of Commissioners of Quarantine are in receipt of your communication of the 4th inst. upon the subject of Asiatic cholera. The emergency alluded to by your Excellency had already arisen before the date of your letter. A vessel arrived in port on the 2d inst. having on board several cases of cholera.

Immediately upon learning the fact, the board took active measures to provide for the reception and care of the sick on the Floating Hospital, and she was fitted out with all necessary supplies and despatched to the Lower Bay. Though not the best place for the reception of those afflicted with such a disease, it was the only means at the immediate disposal of the commissioners, and it is believed that the provision which has been made will prove ample to meet the emergency until some more suitable provision shall be made by the Legislature. The Health Officer was entirely right in assuring your Excellency of the willingness and anxiety of the board to coöperate with him in his efforts to guard against the approach and spread of this pestilence.

They will not be deterred from doing what may be necessary to aid him, by the fact that the appropriation for the support of Quarantine the current year is already exhausted. They rely with entire confidence upon being sustained by the next Legislature in doing whatever necessity requires should be done in an emergency which was not provided for when the last appropriation was made, because it was not anticipated that it would arise. The suggestions contained in the extract from the report, referred to by your Excellency, are instructive and pertinent, and many of them will furnish a safe guide for the action of the quarantine authorities.

Thanking you for the kind manner in which you have alluded to this board, I have the honor to be, your Excellency's obedient servant,

CYRUS CURTISS, President.

There was no representation of the Police Board present. Messrs. BROWN, DEVOE and KNAPP were present, attended by their counsel, Mr. VANDERPOEL. The commission was called to order by the Mayor.

Mr. VANDERPOEL, on behalf of the contractors, read a specific refutation of the charges presented by the Police Board. The precincts covered by the reply are the Twenty-ninth, Twentieth, Fifteenth, Tenth, Ninth, Eighth, Sixth, Fifth, Third, Second and First.

In the reply the contractors give the number of times the several streets were swept, and the dates. In cases where the streets were not swept, the reply gives the reasons therefor.

TESTIMONY OF WM. BERRYMAN.

Mr. WM. BERRYMAN, foreman of the Fifth Precinct, sworn: I am foreman of Fifth Precinct; it takes in all from Canal to Reade and Broadway to the river; I am foreman of all that work; I employ 22 men, 10 carts and 12 sweepers; my statement was made at the time; I make it each day; each day's work appears by itself; I start the men at seven A. M., and leave them at half past five P. M.; I have compared my memorandum with the charges of the Police Board; Franklin-street to Duane is occupied by building material; the street was swept, but the gutters could not be swept; St. John's-lane has been cleaned once every week; I was appointed on the 16th of September and took charge on the 18th; I know Sergeant ROBERTS of that precinct; I spoke to a policeman who keeps a boarding-house about four loads of stuff thrown out; my men can sweep Canal to Broadway and the river, Walker, and White and Franklin, on Monday, and remove the sweepings; I sweep so many streets each day and do all I can, generally pursuing the same system; I keep my memorandum for myself; this report was made from the memorandum book which I write up myself.

TESTIMONY OF MR. MOORE.

Mr. MOORE, of the Eighteenth Ward, sworn: The Twenty-ninth Precinct enbraces Fourteenth to Twenty-sixth-street and Fourth to Sixth-avenue; that is the part over which I am foreman; I employ twenty-four men as sweepers and fourteen carts; have been foreman since the commencement; there are no streets that have not been swept once a week; I follow my men and know what is done each day; no streets need be swept more than once a week; I have swept some streets several times a week; some two, three and four times a week; I say that each of those streets on Sixth-avenue which the police say are not swept, are swept either Monday or Tuesday, depending on the quantity of garbage; the Captain of police and citizens say the precinct is in better order than ever, but it is almost impossible to keep it clean on account of the garbage.

TESTIMONY OF MR. KEATING.

Mr. ARTHUR KEATING sworn, of Second Precinct—I am foreman of Second Ward; include the whole ward; have been foreman since the contract; I know what I am to do; have six sweepers and four carts; all the streets have been swept and cleaned once a week; I recollect that the streets specified as not swept were swept; the week was a dry one and the work was done; these memoranda were made at the time; I was formerly Assistant Captain of Police; have been familiar with the ward twenty years; I follow my men daily, and have plenty of them; I have omitted none of the work; the policeman who goes out in the forenoon reports the streets uncleaned, and his partner does the same in the afternoon, neither of them being present at the time of sweeping; the streets can be kept clean if the citizens do their duty.

TESTIMONY OF MR. BOSCHER.

Mr. BOSCHER, of the Twentieth Precinct, sworn: The streets are Thirty-sixth to Fortieth, Sixth-avenue to the river; have been foreman since the beginning; have sixteen sweepers and fourteen carmen; they are employed all the time; have sufficient force; have not failed to sweep every street once a week; thoroughly swept, and garbage taken away; I keep a memorandum of each day's work; I remember this week, and each street was swept; I commence at Sixth-avenue and go down to the river; of course, I don't skip a block; the district is better now than ever before; this avenue runs through three precincts: one policeman calls it clean, others say it is dirty, and I can't see how that could well be; if the citizens don't do their duty we'd have to sweep twice a day; Twenty-seventh-street, from Seventh to Eighth avenues, is always dirty, and the contractors allowed me an extra man; I went on Saturday and took up four loads after I had swept on Friday; I have no difficulty in doing my work according to contract.

Comptroller BRENNAN remarked concerning one precinct, that a policeman's beat covered four business streets, and he believed it an impossibility for an officer to swear with accuracy concerning the sweeping.

Mayor GUNTHER suggested that hereafter the inspectors be instructed to report its day's work to the Police Precinct.

Recorder HOFFMAN—It is very evident that the contractors are doing all they can to give the city clean streets, and that the men produced are quick, active and intelligent. The suggestion of the Mayor is but a suggestion, but it occurs to us that if the reports are made, the police will understand that the dirt and garbage in the streets have been thrown in after the street-sweepers have gone through. Then the responsibility will be placed where it belongs—not on this commission, nor on the contractors, but on the citizens who will not keep the streets clean after they are made so. It is on record that in many instances the residents along a swept route will recklessly throw filth and refuse upon the street and into the gutters immediately after the carts and sweepers have passed. This keeps the city in a perpetually dirty condition and no contractors can remedy an evil of which the people themselves are the source. The time of this commission cannot be taken up continually hearing and investigating charges, and it seems to us that the observance of the suggestion made by the commission will save further annoyance, and will enable the Police to understand exactly where the fault lies. It is the infention, as it is the duty of the Police Board to follow up this plan of reporting, and we are glad to have them. That the contractors have thus far done what they could to keep the terms of their agreement, I firmly believe.

Mr. VANDERPOEL—We would say that, so far as the contractors are concerned, they intend to do as they agreed. Their instructions to the foremen are explicit, and in compliance with the contract, and if anything is not done which should be, it is the fault of the workmen, not of the contractors. We are very glad to receive any suggestion from the commission, and will, of course, take cognizance of it.

MAYOR GUNTHER.—The commission will now adjourn. We regret that there is no representative of the Police Board present, but we have listened attentively and carefully to the explanations and answers of the contractors, and see no reason for a further investigation. The contractors may do their duty by the terms of the agreement, and yet if the people will not assist in keeping the streets clean, the city cannot fail to be dirty.

The commission then adjourned. It is stated that as yet every dollar received by the contractors has been expended on the work in procuring material and preparing for the faithful execution of the contract. The commissioners and contractors unite in deploring the present practice indulged in by thousands of people, who, regardless of the laws of health, reckless of disease and filth, and careless of appearances, persist not only in throwing their refuse into the streets, but with singular lack of judgment, absolutely seem to prefer to wait until the sweepers have gone, and the carts have been driven away, before they throw the stuff into the gutters. It would be a great blessing to the city, a great sanitary measure, a great relief to the people themselves if the police could be empowered to arrest persons throwing filth into the streets, and if our Justices could be empowered to fine or imprison the offenders. As matters now stand some of the localities might be swept twice a day, and yet be dirty and unhealthy.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

Filling Vacancies in the List of Inspectors and Canvassers of Election.

This board held a special session yesterday, President TWEED in the chair.

The following communication was read:

To the Board of Supervisors:

I am requested by the Board of Police Commissioners, as one of its counsel, to confer with your body relative to the mode of appointing inspectors and canvassers, who "for any reason shall fail to appear on the day of election." I call your attention to the following paragraph in section one of the Registry Act: In case on the day of election, any inspector or canvasser shall, for any reason, fail to appear, his place may be supplied in the manner now provided by law.

I also call your attention to the fact that the opinion of your counsel merely related to vacancies occurring (meaning by resignation, &c.,) which are to be filled by the Board of Commissioners of Police; but where an Inspector of Election or Canvasser fails to appear on the day of election—although he may have appeared and acted and been in office for several days previous, as an Inspector of Registry on days of registration his place is to be filled in the manner provided for by law, when the registry act passed. Such provision was that as at previous elections, the failure to appear on election day should be remedied by action of the Supervisors.

The Commissioners of Metropolitan Police are unanimously of opinion that they have no power to act in case of a failure to appear as aforesaid, but that the Supervisors in such case must, as heretofore, act.

Nov. 6, 1865. A. OAKEY HALL.

In connection therewith Mr. ELY offered a resolution that the Board of Supervisors act according to law in filling vacancies in the list of Inspectors and Canvassers of Election on the day of election.

The resolution was adopted and the board adjourned.

THE MUSICAL STRIKE.

Meeting of the Musical Protective Association—Resolution to Support the Strike—Rumored Withdrawal of the Orchestral Leaders from the Society.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the New-York Musical Protective Association, was held at the Germania Assembly Rooms. The meeting was numerously attended. As the reporters of the press were rigidly excluded, no authentic report can be made of the proceedings. From conversation, however, with some of the members of the association, it was learned that, after a stormy session and some debate, the society resolved to levy a tax of one dollar on each member, to support the strikers, so it only remains for time and the longest purse to determine the winning side in the contest.

It would appear that the society has suffered a ruinous defection in the withdrawal of the leading orchestral leaders of the city, in order that they may coöperate with the associate managers in their endeavors to procure other musical talent from abroad. This ought, if true, to be the means of bringing the strike to a sudden end.

A statement has been made that there exists in the City of Hamburg, Germany, a band of some fifty or sixty musicians who are desirous of coming to America, and it is thought that the managers may send for them, and so secure the necessary talent. Some hope is yet entertained, however, that a sufficient number of the members of the association will see their own interest in the more sensible light, and by seceding from the society enable the managers to obtain bands without sending to Germany or the British Provinces. From the expressed tone of the meeting yesterday, this latter hope would seem insecure.

Meanwhile the managers give their patrons such music and amusement as can be obtained from grand pianos and cabinet organs, and the public seem very well satisfied.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

The Trotting Match for $2,000 Between the Stallions George Wilkes and Commodore Vanderbilt—Wilkes the Winner—Time, 2:34 1-2, 2:30, 2:29 1-2, 2:31 1-2.

In the previous match contest in harness between these champion stallions of the trotting turf, when the driver of Wilkes pulled into Vanderbilt and broke him up badly, Wilkes was the winner. Without meaning to imply that this accident was intentional; on the contrary, believing that it happened by a mistake of Wilkes' driver, who endeavored to get his horse down from a bad break by pulling him on the wrong side; yet the result of the accident was the same for Vanderbilt, who never recovered the effects of that break throughout the remainder of the race. The return match between these two horses to wagons was set down for Thursday last, but the weather on that day proved too bad for trotting purposes, and the conditions being "fair day and good track," the match was postponed from day to day until yesterday, when it came off. The rules of the trotting turf are definite and conclusive enough, and certainly imply that when a match is made for a certain day, with the conditions of "a fair day and good track," if lack of these conditions compels its postponement, all bets are off; and that when the match comes to an issue, it has to be regarded as a new race; so, however, do not argue the judges of the Union Track. On Thursday last, prior to the setting in of the storm which precluded the trotting of the match, the usual toss for choice of places took place, and Wilkes won the pole—a considerable advantage in a close race, as all trotting men are fully aware. The judges yesterday without any foundation decided by a vote of two to one, that the chances of last Thursday should hold good for yesterday, when the former was a past and undecided event. By what process of reasoning they arrived at this conclusion, is best known to themselves. Perhaps the umpire judge could best explain this matter, and not the one appointed either by the owner of Wilkes or Vanderbilt. Nevertheless the old adage of "judge knowing the best" was acted on, and the dictum of the judicial trio was submitted to not, however, without some just murmurings on the part of the malcontents. The betting had been for several days previously strongly in favor of the stallion Wilkes, and prior to the start it stood at $100 to $30 on him against his opponent.

FIRST HEAT.—An excellent start was effected, but in rounding the turn Vanderbilt broke badly, and at the quarter was six lengths behind, which he failed in making up down the back and past the half mile. Making the homestretch turn, both were on an easy jog, Wilkes coming home the easiest of winners, without an effort.

SECOND HEAT.—A magnificent start was effected, the pair taking the upper turn to the quarter head and head. Down the back, Wilkes led half a length, when Vanderbilt went up, but was soon caught, Wilkes still leading, during Vanderbilt's break, several lengths. Rounding the lower turn, Vanderbilt closed the gap at a tremendous rate of speed, on which he came into the homestretch turn, and up which a most exciting struggle ensued, the result being the success of Vanderbilt.

THIRD HEAT.—A fine start was effected; after passing the score the two were closely yoked together throughout the balance of the mile; the result was an unmistakable dead heat.

FOURTH HEAT.—The start was good; but approaching the quarter, Vanderbilt broke badly, and could not be got down again to the half-mile pole. He was up and down throughout the balance of the race, and the result was that he was distanced in the heat, giving Wilkes the race.

The Grand Match at Brooklyn—Athletic vs. Atlantic—The Brooklyn Club Again Successful—An Exciting Contest—Fifteen Thousand People Present.

Though the season for playing base-ball has almost ended, and the busiest portion of the year is upon us, so attractive does first-class contests between the prominent clubs of the country prove to be, that thousands of people can be found even to withstand the unpleasantness of a raw November day to witness a first-rate trial of skill between such noted experts in the game as the first nines of the Atlantic and Athletic clubs of Brooklyn and Philadelphia. The assemblage collected on the grounds of the latter club in the Quaker City was regarded as the most numerous ever seen at a match before, but that of yesterday on the Capitoline Grounds has never before been equaled. As in the case of every other similar gathering this season, it was orderly and decorous in a high degree, if we except, perhaps, the too partial award of approbation to the local organization—the fact being that the Philadelphians came in for but a poor share of the applause for good plays made. In other respects everything went on as it should do, and the contest was decided, the wagers paid up, and the proceedings terminated without the occurrence of anything calculated to mar the harmony of the affair in the least. With no other sport in vogue does this result follow so invariably as in base ball, and it is to be hoped that every season will terminate as creditably as the present has done.

The field was cleared shortly after 1 P. M. by the detachment of police present, and at 1:30 all things being in readiness the game began, the Atlantics going to the bat, their adversaries having won the toss. The opening play was decidedly in favor of the Brooklyn players, their score at the close of the third innings begin 19, to the Philadelphians 11. This result was mainly owing to the rather inferior play in the field of the Athletics, no less than ten catches being missed in the first three innings; afterward, however, they warmed up to their work wel, and showed a marked improvement in their play in this respect, but the advantage their opponents had obtained in the beginning was such as almost to insure them the victory. In the last six innings the Athletics added 13 runs to their score, the Atlantics only scoring 8, the batting of the Philadelphians being very spirited in the 7th and 8th innings. In fact, in batting they out-played the Atlantics, but in fielding they did not equal them, the latter taking eleven fly balls to three by the Athletics. After a contest lasting two and a half hours, the Atlantics were declared the victors by a score of 27 to 24, the last two innings of the game being exceedingly interesting. This is the last grand match of the season in this locality. During the Indian Summer the fine days may be taken advantage of, but no contest of any importance will take place. We append the score of the game:

The Fire Department.

The Board of Commissioners held their adjourned meeting yesterday afternoon at Firemen's Hall. Present—Commissioners PINCKNEY, BROWN, ENGS and ABBE.

The usual number of communications were received and referred for consideration to the standing committees.

The Committee on Appointments and Discipline recommended that the First Assistant Engineer also act as Superintendent of Repairs of Apparatus, that a suitable office be provided him, and that his salary be raised to $2,000. Adopted.

The same committee also reported on a short list of appointments and transfers, which were confirmed by the board.

The Committee on Finance reported favorably on several bills and accounts. Among these were five from the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company, making a total of $16,847 81. The remainder were for supplies, horses and sundries, amounting to $8,975 26. Adopted.

On motion of Commissioner PINCKNEY, it was resolved that all reports of duty from companies and bell-ringers should be passed over by the Secretary to the Committee on Appointments and Discipline.

On motion of Commissioner PINCKNEY, the office of the Chief-Engineer was transferred to Firemen's Hall, and the premises at No. 21 Elizabeth-street to be used exclusively as a repair-yard.

On motion of Commissioner ENGS, the large room in the third story of Firemen's Hall was tendered the Association of Exempt Firemen for their use.

On motion of Commissioner ABBE, CHAS. HILDERBERG was appointed Messenger at $800 per annum.

On motion of Commissioner BROWN, the Committee on Buildings and Supplies were authorized to contract for 600 bales of good feeding hay and 500 bushels of oats for the department.

Commissioner ENGS offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That it is the proper duty of this board to acknowledge the public services of those members of the Volunteer Fire Department who continued, until released by resolution, to perform their duty as firemen, at the sacrifice of long-cherished attachments, thereby exhibiting a striking example of respect for the dignity of constitutional law; therefore

Resolved, That we tender to them individually and officially our sincere thanks for the services thus rendered, and the assurance of our continued regard.

They were adopted, and the board adjourned to Friday next, at 3 o'clock.

Destructive Fire in Brooklyn—A Sash Factory and a Number of Dwellings Consumed by the Flames.

An extensive fire occurred on Sunday night in the vicinity of Gates and Classon avenues and Quincy-street, resulting in the destruction of a large sash and blind factory, and a number of frame dwelling houses, occupied by about a dozen families, all of whom were turned out of doors, without being able to save any of their property. Soome barely escaped with their lives. The wind was blowing fiercely, and sparks and cinders were impelled a distance of half a mile.

The fire originated in the sash and blind factory of ALBERT P. WHITE, situate in Quincy-street, near Classon-avenue. The building was of large dimensions, of wood, and filled with combustible material. The flames were first discovered in the engine room, and thence spread with great rapidity. The entire structure was speedily enveloped. A row of six frame dwelling-houses on Classon-avenue, between Gates-avenue and Quincy-street, a brick building on the corner of Gates-avenue, and a large three-story frame on the corner of Quincy-street, next caught fire, and the whole, with the exception of the brick building, were totally destroyed. The firemen worked energetically until nearly daylight, before they succeeded in staying the progress of the fiery element.

The sash factory was occupied by Messrs. GARDINER & JOHNSON, whose loss on stock amounts to $1,500; insured in the Morris Insurance Company. The loss on the building is $8,500; insured for $5,000 in the Nassau and Morris Companies.

Mr. E. C. WOOD, the owner of the house and store corner of Classon-avenue and Quincy-street, sustained a loss of $4,700; insured for $2,000 in the New-York Fire and Marine Company.

The occupants of the dwelling-houses destroyed and their losses are as follows: Jacob Cortelyou, loss $1,500, insured for $600; E. P. Chichester, loss $700, insured for $600; J. J. Walker, loss $500, no insurance; Mr. Lewis, loss $1,500, no insurance; Robert Tait, (family absent,) loss $700; S. N. Woods, loss $1,200, no insurance; brick building corner of Gates and Classon avenues, owned and occupied by EDWARD CONKLIN, grocer, was partially destroyed, damage $2,500, insured for $2,000. The total loss by this conflagration was $28,400.

It is not known how the fire originated but is supposed to have been the result of accident.

On Saturday evening a fire was occasioned in the show-window of ISAAC LEVYSON's store, No. 233 Myrtle-avenue, by the goods displayed coming into contact with the gas jet. It was extinguished after damage to the extent of $20 had been done.

About 9 o'clock last evening a fire occurred in a stable owned by PATRICK DONNELLY, and occupied by MICHAEL MONAHAN, in Bushwick-avenue, near Skillman-street, which was totally destroyed. Damage $100; no insurance. Supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

SLUNG-SHOT IN A RAILWAY CAR.—At about noon, yesterday, Mr. THOMAS MCCARTNEY, of No. 104 Cannon-street, stood talking with the conductor of a Canal-street car near the Grand-street ferry, and gave the conductor a $10 bank-note, for which he received smaller notes. As he took the money, one of a gang of thieves standing near the car said to the conductor, "Shove that fellow off the car, and we'll see how long he has that money!" They then attacked Mr. MCCARTNEY as he was entering the car, and one JAMES DAVRIN, it is alleged, knocked him down with a slung-shot, and the other fellows kicked him and beat him unmercifully while he lay on the floor. Policeman ANDERSON, of the Thirteenth Ward, reached the spot in season to arrest DAVRIN. The prisoner, on being taken before Justice MANSFIELD, said that he was intoxicated. He is a native of Ireland, dwells at No. 390 Madison-street, and has no reputable occupation. Justice MANSFIELD committed him for trial on charge of attempt to rob.

ATTEMPT TO DEFRAUD THE GOVERNMENT.—WILLIAM CHASE BARNEY, a clerk in the Custom-house, and one BENTHAM FABIAN, formerly a clerk in the Treasury Department, were taken before Justice DOWLING, yesterday, and Mr. NELSON K. WHEELER, Deputy Collector of the Port, appeared and made affidavit that they had attempted, by executing three spurious bonds, to withdraw from the Custom-house three hundred barrels of whisky, which were in bond, and the duty on which amounted to $40,000. The accused were defended by ROBERT D. HOLMES, Esq.; and he made an argument before Justice DOWLING, contending that the case should be removed to a United States court, and JOHN SEDGWICK, Esq., for the government, held that Justice DOWLING had full jurisdiction. Decision is to be rendered this morning; meantime the accused were held for examination. BARNEY was arrested many years ago, on charge of being engaged in certain gold-dust frauds.

MORE ROBBERIES ON THE CARS.—Mr. F. GILDEN had his pocket picked of $100 on Friday evening while riding on the platform of one of the Third-avenue cars. The robbery occurred as he was stepping out of the car, the platform being crowded while there was plenty of standing-room inside. It appears that from six to eight complaints are made every night to the police by parties who have had their pockets picked while riding on the Third-avenue line. The thieves operate in gangs, several of them thrusting themselves against passengers as they leave the cars, while others pick the victims pockets. The only safety appears to be in passengers taking special care of their valuables when getting on or off a crowded car.

DOUBLE REGISTERING.—Upon the complaint of Mr. VINCENT COLYER, of No. 105 Bleecker-street, Inspector of the Third District in the Fifteenth Ward, Policeman MURPHY, of the Fifteenth Precinct, arrested ROBERT A. MURRAY, of No. 25 West Houston-street, for registering his name in the Third District of the Fifteenth Ward, after he had registered in the Sixth District of the Eighth Ward. Mr. GEORGE M. BARKER, Inspector of the latter district, appeared before Justice DODGE, and himself and Mr. COLYER made affidavits against Mr. MURRAY. The accused admitted the charge, and said that he registered in the Eighth Ward while drunk. He was committed in default of $500 bail. He is a native of this city, aged 54 years.

POLICEMAN SEVERELY BEATEN.—On Sunday evening Patrolman CLINCHY, of the Eighth Ward, apprehended a drunken and disorderly negro in Sullivan-street, near Broome, and a gang by whom the prisoner was accompanied, thereupon fell upon the officer, seized his club, knocked him to the pavement, and there kicked him in the face and on the body, and at length left him unconscious on the sidewalk. Two civilians subsequently found the officer apparently dead, and took him to the Wooster-street Police-station, where he was attended by Surgeon POOLER. The officer's left eye is closed, and he is seemingly seriously injured internally.

HIGHWAYMEN IN HARLEM.—On Sunday evening Mr. PETER DERVIT, of Harlem, was accosted in One Hundred and Twenty-eighth-street, near Fourth-avenue, by two unknown highwaymen, who formally demanded his money and then attempted to seize his watch. Mr. DERVIT, however, escaped, and so did the highwaymen, Policeman PABOR, of the Twelfth Ward, having appeared on the scene before they had consummated the robbery.

WHAT IS OUR DUTY TO-DAY?

To the Members of the Citizens' Association:

GENTLEMEN: As a friend of city reform, I respectfully ask you whether it is wise for you so to divide the honest vote of the Seventh Senatorial District as to secure the election of THOMAS C. FIELDS? This district embraces over half the city in territory, and about one-third of its population. Now, all classes of our citizens concede that THOMAS MURPHY, the Union candidate for Senator, is honest and capable. He is warmly supported by the organization of the party by which he was nominated. If we are to succeed in December in reforming our city government, it is mainly to his friends that we must look for support in this portion of the city. As far as I have heard the Union party men express an opinion, they appear to be ready and willing to aid the Citizens' Association in December. But will they have faith in our honesty and integrity if we defeat their candidate for State Senator by the election of FIELDS? I submit this question for your serious consideration, feeling confident, as I do, that every vote cast for MCLEAN to-day will indirectly help the worst candidate now before the people. Let every member of the Citizens' Association answer for himself at the polls. My conviction is, that the best way to accomplish the great object in view is to vote for THOMAS MURPHY. By so doing, we can not only secure the election of an able and honest Senator, but also secure the aid and good will of his friends in the great contest in December. In that contest we hope to secure a Reform Common Council, an honest Mayor, and Counsel to the Corporation who will protect the rights of our suffering taxpayers. These considerations are sufficient to induce me to vote for MURPHY, without regard to his politics. Others must decide for themselves what is their duty in the premises.
